Emergency room program includes full-time doctors

BY GEORGE MALEK

In the midst of a growing community, Fayette Memorial Hospital has experienced an increasing burden on its facilities over the past several years. Built in 1946, the hospital has twice constructed additional wings. The first addition was built in 1951, and the facility expanded further in 1964. However, improved physical resources at the hospital are not the entire solution to an increase in the number of patients. Physicians are needed to administer treatment.

ACTION TAKEN by the board of trustees last Monday night should greatly improve both the ability of the hospital to serve the community and the standard of medical services in the Washington C. H. area.

The board has resolved to contract with a Bellefontaine firm which will provide physicians for the hospital emergency room on an around-the-clock basis. The availability of a full-time physician will begin Jan. 6.

At a cost of $120,000 per year, the Medical Emergency Facility Co., will see that an emergency room specialist is at the hospital 24 hours per day, Monday through Friday. Combining this with the hospital's three-year-old program of 24-hour professional service on the weekends means that a licensed physician will be in the emergency room continuously.

The obvious advantage of such a system is in the case of serious illness or injury. Those who have a serious condition will be met at the door of the hospital by a qualified doctor. However, the subtle advantages, which are easily overlooked, can be just as important to the community.

If a patient elsewhere in the hospital suddenly becomes critically ill, a doctor can be there in a matter of seconds. At present, if none of the staff doctors happen to be in the building, someone must be called at home and travel to the hospital — both of which take precious time from the patient.

For the past 25 years the hospital has required that its staff doctors take turns being "on call." The doctor on call must be available for emergency service. On the average, each doctor on the 12-member staff spends more than 12 hours each week on call, in addition to his private practice and his routine work at the hospital. In all, it leaves a doctor with little time for his family and friends.

Over the past several years, a number of outstanding physicians have been lost to the community because of the "on call" requirement. Instead of choosing Washington C. H. as a place to begin or relocate their practice, these men have selected areas where the local hospital had a full-time staff, leaving the doctor more leisure time. The new program offers Washington C. H. an opportunity to be more competitive when seeking physicians.

Also expected to benefit are the patients of the local doctors. It has not been uncommon for a doctor on call to be forced to leave a waiting room full of patients for several hours while tending to an emergency at the hospital. Having a full-time physician in the emergency room should ease this situation significantly.

Robert L. Kunz, hospital administrator, and the board of trustees are proud of the fact that the hospital has always operated without a tax on local residents. "We have been self-supporting and will continue to be so," Kunz said.

READY BUT NOT EAGER — Mrs. Sandy Black, head nurse of the emergency room, is shown above checking the cardiac equipment. Although she is trained to act immediately if a heart attack victim is brought to the hospital, Mrs. Black is not eager to do so. She is looking forward to the time when a doctor will be in the emergency room full time.

He explained that the cost of the new program will result in slightly higher costs of emergency room service. It has been estimated that treatment will cost $2 to $3 more on the average than it has in the past, but the board feels the improvement in services justifies the increase.

Ultimately, area residents will decide whether or not the program will be continued beyond the first year. This year the hospital will have treated nearly 15,000 patients in the emergency room. Kunz said this number of patients justifies the program and with the same number next year, the program should be able to break even moneywise.

He explained that if the increased cost of an emergency room visit deters a significant number of persons from using the facility, the program will have to be discontinued. "On the other hand," he noted, "if the number of patients in the emergency room significantly increases, the cost per patient might be reduced. The hospital's only objective is to avoid losing money on the project," Kunz emphasized.

The program will be closely monitored and reviewed during the first year. "If it appears successful, it will be continued," he said. Kunz added that if the program becomes a permanent part of the hospital program, some of the four or five doctors who will be serving the emergency room can reasonably be expected to take up residence in the Washington C. H. area.

THE EMERGENCY room is presently staffed by a registered nurse, three licensed practical nurses, and a nursing attendant. With assistance from the nursing supervisor, these five persons operate the four-bed emergency unit.

Twenty-three years ago the emergency room had less than 200 patients per month and a small staff was sufficient, but with the number of treatments now averaging more than 1,000 per month, additional help is needed. Having a physician in the emergency room will ease the tremendous workload presently being shouldered by the nursing staff.

The facility serves as a clinic for Dr. W. T. Kubiak, a bone specialist, from Columbus, every other Thursday. Its staff assists in minor surgeries for outpatients and assists many in-patient procedures.

The emergency room also substitutes for a vacationing family doctor. Perhaps not an emergency in the most strict sense, a patient who knows that his family doctor is not available often seeks medical attention at the hospital.

In addition to Fayette County area residents who make use of the emergency facilities, the hospital often serves parts of Madison, Greene, Highland, Pickaway, Clinton and Ross counties.

"Waiting in the emergency room will not be eliminated by the acquisition of full-time physicians," Kunz said. "Those who come for minor treatments may not receive immediate attention because of others who were there before them. But when a true emergency arises, the patient will be seen immediately. He will no longer have to wait until the doctor on call is contacted, nor wait for the physician to drive to the hospital," Kunz added.

It is in these emergency situations that the nurses are most eager for the new program. Mrs. Sandy Black, head nurse of the emergency room, said that although she is trained to take over in "life and death" situations, she is not

Simon expects little relief

Longest recession since war looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon says the United States may be facing the longest recession since World War II and does not rule out that it also could be the worst.

"It might be longer than any of the recessions we've experienced since World War II, but it's way too early to tell whether it will be more severe," Simon said in an interview Monday.

The longest of the five postwar recessions extended for 13 months, from July 1953 to August 1954. The last recession extended 12 months, from November 1969 to November 1970.

Simon said the nation's unemployment rate — now 6 per cent of the labor force — will hit 7 per cent by late spring, and indicated he would not be surprised if it went higher.

The nation's worst unemployment in the postwar period was 7.9 per cent during the recession of late 1948 and 1949.

"Forecasting is a precarious business, but that isn't presently in our forecast," Simon said when asked if the jobless rate might go as high as 7.9 per cent in the current recession. Some private economic forecasts have been predicting an 8 per cent jobless rate.

He said the economy, which has been declining all year, will continue to decline through the first quarter of 1975, and then level off.

"We still forecast that by the summer of 1975 there will be an upturn," he said.

The over-all decline in the value of the nation's economic output, as measured by the gross national product, will exceed the decline of 1.5 per cent during the 1969-1970 recession, Simon said.

He said it would be "too early to tell" whether it will plunge below 3.9 per cent, which was the record postwar economic decline in the recession of 1953 and 1954.

But Simon argued that the current recession is not much worse than the administration had anticipated at the time it drew up its economic program in October, although he said the outlook is being complicated by the coal strike.

He said the coal strike will "show a sharper slowdown" in the economy.

In pointing out that the economic decline was anticipated, Simon was arguing that the Ford economic program is adequate to deal with recession as well as inflation and does not need to be changed.

U.N. honors set for late U Thant

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U Thant of Burma, former United Nations secretary-general who died of cancer at 65, will be the first person to lie in state at U.N. Headquarters. It is among unprecedented international honors planned for the third U.N. secretary-general.

His body will be on view Wednesday for U.N. delegates, employees and correspondents. The 138-nation General Assembly will hold a special meeting for eulogies to Thant after his successor, Kurt Waldheim, returns from a peace mission in the Middle East.

After Thant's death was announced Monday, the assembly stood for a moment of silence in his memory, devoted half an hour to tributes from Waldheim and regional group chairmen and put off to today a debate on whether to switch Cambodia's U.N. seat from Lon Nol's to Norodom Sihanouk's representatives.

Thant died at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York. He had suffered from cancer of the cheek for years. The cancer spread to the larynx and became complicated with pneumonia. For months he had been fed through a tube because he could not swallow.

The funeral has not been arranged. Thant followed Trygve Lie of Norway and Dag Hammarskjöld of Sweden as the U.N.'s chief administrative officer. He served 10 years, the longest tenure of all, through the organization's stormiest period ending in 1971.

U THANT

Since retirement, Thant had lived in Harrison, N.Y., writing his memoirs until he became ill.

Tributes began when word of his death reached U.N. offices here. A close British co-worker, Undersecretary-General Brian Urquhart, said: "He was a very — in the true sense of the word — good man, courageous and very serious."

Waldheim credited Thant with "total dedication to the United Nations" and said, "His wisdom and his calm but

Ohio could lose at least $1 million in loan case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A U.S. Supreme Court decision Monday will cost the State of Ohio at least $1 million and possibly much more, a spokesman for the attorney general said Monday night.

Jack Maddigan, the spokesman, said the state may recover as little as $25,000 of the remaining $1.4 million in loans made to the bankrupt Four Seasons Nursing Centers of America. The state already has recovered $2.6 million of the $4 million in loans.

Maddigan said it is safe to assume the state's final recovery will be less than $3 million, leaving a loss of more than $1 million.

He hedged his prediction, however, by saying that "it's really pure conjecture" how much the state ultimately will receive.

The Supreme Court on Monday declined to review a settlement in the case of the Four Seasons Nursing Centers of America. Ohio loaned the firm $4 million shortly before Four Seasons filed for bankruptcy.

Maddigan said Atty. Gen. William J. Brown was disappointed by the ruling. "We feel that if the court had heard the facts in the case, we would have prevailed," said Maddigan, who noted the case was decided only on a writ asking for review.

In its decision, the high court let stand a ruling by the 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Denver that Ohio was included in a settlement of the bankruptcy case.

Brown had challenged that ruling, contending it was harmful to the state's interest. Brown said the state's attorneys had been "lulled . . . into the belief" that the state was not included in the settlement.

Ohio loaned the money to Four Seasons, an Oklahoma City, Okla., firm, in March, 1970. Three months later, Four Seasons filed for bankruptcy.

Ohio officials sought unsuccessfully to recover the money through bankruptcy court and negotiations. Meanwhile, other Four Seasons creditors filed for a class action settlement of the debts owed by the company.

A notice was sent to Ohio asking if it wanted to be let out of the class settlement. The attorney general's office has said the notice got lost in the volumes of legal papers in the case.

When the class action settlement was reached, the attorney general's office said, it found for the first time that it supposedly was included in the class action. The state then asked that it be let out of the settlement so it could pursue its own case against Four Seasons.

The Denver court said Ohio was properly included. The Supreme Court let that ruling stand.

"We'll get something as part of the class, but not very much," Maddigan said.

Frank Zarb Ford's choice as next energy agency head

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Interior Committee appears ready to act quickly and favorably on President Ford's nomination of Frank G. Zarb to head the Federal Energy Administration.

"We've had good relations up here with Zarb," chairman Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said Monday. "There's no question about his professional ability."

Jackson added that "unless something unforeseen happens," Zarb would be confirmed by the Senate before the end of the year.

Andrew E. Gibson, Ford's first choice for the job, was forced to withdraw after disclosure of an $880,000 salary settlement from an oil shipping firm he once headed. Zarb also comes from a petroleum background. He formerly worked for Cities Service.

In announcing Zarb's nomination, the White House said Zarb had passed all his FBI checks and security clearances as well as conflict-of-interest probes.

Sen. Clifford P. Hansen of Wyoming, the committee's second ranking Republican, called the 39-year-old Zarb

"an excellent nomination," although he said he has never had any personal dealings with Zarb. The nominee currently is the associate director of the Office of Management and Budget.

Other committee members, including Sens. J. Bennett Johnston, Jr., D-La., and James Abourezk, D-S.D., declined comment, saying they didn't know enough about the nominee.

The staff member added that hearings probably would be held next week and would take only one day to complete.

Zarb, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., came to Washington in 1971 to join the Nixon administration as an assistant secretary of labor.

If confirmed, Zarb would succeed John C. Sawhill, who resigned under pressure in a dispute over energy policy. Sawhill had been the chief administration proponent of energy conservation and reportedly had angered the President with his statements favoring a tax increase on gasoline.

Sawhill has been continuing to serve as head of FEA until a successor can be confirmed.

Deaths, Funerals

Philip Walling

JEFFERSONVILLE — Philip Walling, infant son of Bruce T. and Mary Griffith Walling, was stillborn Friday at Kinchelo Air Force Hospital, Kinchelo Air Force Base, Mich.

In addition to the parents, the infant is survived by his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walling, of Dayton, and the maternal grandparents, the Rev. and Mrs. J. Eugene Griffith, of Jeffersonville.

Committal services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday in Fairview Cemetery, Jeffersonville, under the direction of the Morrow Funeral Home.

Alfred T. Cartmille

MOUNT STERLING — Alfred T. Cartmille, 66, of Columbus, died Monday night in Mount Carmel Hospital, Columbus.

Born in Madison County, Mr. Cartmille was a retired auto mechanic.

He is survived by a son, Phillip, of Columbus; two grandsons; two brothers, Finice (Dap) Cartmille, Rt. 4, London, and Charles (Ned) Cartmille, of Mount Sterling; four sisters, Mrs. Virginia Wolfe, of Columbus, Mrs. Grace Wolfe, of Millersport, Mrs. Wilhelminia Hernstein, of Clarksburg, and Miss Isabelle Cartmille, of London.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Porter Funeral Home, Mount Sterling, with the Rev. Lynn Rainsberger officiating. Burial will be in Pleasant Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p.m. Thursday.

LAWRENCE VANBUSKIRK — Services for Lawrence VanBuskirk, 70, of 202 W. Cecil St., Springfield, were held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Littleton Funeral Home, with burial in Ferncliff Cemetery, Springfield.

Mr. VanBuskirk died at his residence at 2 p.m. Saturday following a four-year illness. Memorial tributes were to be made to the Wittenberg University Athletic Scholarship Fund or to a charity of the donor's choice.

Chenault bid nixed

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A Georgia Superior Court judge has denied Marcus Wayne Chenault's motion for a new trial in his conviction for murder in the June slaying of Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr.

Judge Luther Alverson on Monday overruled a Chenault motion which claimed there were 15 errors in the four-day trial last September. Alverson also presided over the trial.

Chenault's main claim was that Alverson erred in not allowing a continuance in the trial. His attorney argued that the reports of two psychiatrists were completed only the weekend before the trial began.

Chenault was convicted of killing Mrs. King and a church deacon, Edward Boykin, in a blaze of gunfire during services June 30 in Ebenezer Baptist Church. A woman in the congregation was wounded.

Mrs. King, 70, was the mother of slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Chenault, a 23-year-old black college student from Dayton, Ohio, has been sentenced to death. No date has been set for his execution. He remains in solitary confinement in the fulton County Jail.

Kissinger tours forbidden city

PEKING, China (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today toured the palace museum in the Forbidden City, then got down to the business of diplomatic talks with Chinese officials.

"We always progress in our relationship with each exchange," Kissinger told Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping across a long table in the Great Hall of the People.

Teng responded: "It will be good if one day we can exchange views in Washington."

Teng's remark appeared to indicate that the Chinese are willing to send a top-ranked official to the United States for talks. Kissinger currently deals in Washington with Huang Chen, head of Peking's liaison office.

"I hope we can do that one day soon," Kissinger said, to which Teng agreed: "That seems to be our common desire."

Huang and Foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-hua flanked Teng. Donald Rumsfeld, White House chief of staff, and George Bush, head of the U.S. liaison office in the Chinese capital, were at Kissinger's side.

Before the meeting, Kissinger, his wife Nancy, and his children by a previous marriage, Elizabeth, 15, and David, 13, walked through the palace museum. They were shown ancient bowls valued as high as $250,000 each.

The Forbidden City, so named because common people during the dynasties could not enter, is a large complex of pagoda-topped buildings. Kissinger said the Chinese have shown him a new area on each of his seven visits.

Mitchell described innocent fall guy

WASHINGTON (AP) — John N. Mitchell is described by his lawyer as a Watergate innocent, a fall guy whose "loyalty and belief in his president" kept him from blowing the whistle on the Nixon White House.

"The evidence will show clearly the loyalty was not reciprocated," William G. Hundley told the Watergate coverup trial jury Monday in opening the defense case.

He mentioned White House tapes that showed "how certain people started to set him up ... the role they had planned out for the Big Enchilada" and cautioned the jury:

"Don't you judge John Mitchell the way you heard him judged on those White House tapes by that White House jury."

Mitchell was to be the first witness in his own behalf, taking the stand after another opening statement today by John W. Wilson, lawyer for H. R. Haldeman.

The prospect of testimony by former President Richard M. Nixon was still a question mark, answered until Friday when court-appointed

The prospect of testimony by former President Richard M. Nixon was still a question mark, not to be answered until Friday when court-appointed doctors report on the medical examination they conducted Monday in California. Except for that uncertainty, some defense lawyers said they hope to wind up the trial by Dec. 15.

Mitchell, Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, Kenneth W. Parkinson and Robert C. Mardian are charged with conspiring to camouflage Nixon re-election committee involvement in the June 1972 bugging of Democratic Party headquarters. All except Haldeman asked for directed verdicts of acquittal Monday and were turned down.

The burden on Mitchell and Ehrlichman was lightened slightly when U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica dismissed charges that they lied to the FBI as part of the effort to conceal.

All except Mardian also are charged with obstruction of justice. Mitchell and Haldeman remain charged with three counts of perjury each and Ehrlichman with two. Each count in WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's sugar refiners say they are not to blame for the spiraling cost of sugar, but a government study points to "very large windfall gains" throughout the sugar industry.

The differing points of view came Monday at a hearing of the Council on Wage and Price Stability. The council is investigating the causes of the four-fold increase in the price of sugar in the last year.

"If you are looking for the cause of the high price of sugar, either household or industrial, it is not to be found in the refiners' margins," said Edward D. Hollander, senior vice president of the accounting firm of Robert R. Nathan Associates, representing sugar refiners.

However, Bruce Walter, who presented the council's staff study of profits, said all segments of the industry reaped windfall gains when increasing prices raised the value of their sugar inventories. He said grocers also shared in the windfall.

Hollander contended the refiners' profits amount to just enough to keep ever-costlier raw sugar moving through their mills.

In other economic developments: —A silver lining in the sugar picture emerged from an Associated Press survey showing that prices of diet soft drinks are declining because they don't use expensive sugar.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Lawyer Hugh R. Tankersley admits if he wasn't in contempt of court before, he is now.

Tankersley, 47, said he'll go to jail before paying a $50 contempt of court fine levied against him by Montgomery County Common Pleas Judge Rodney M. Love after a brief verbal exchange.

The fine was imposed Nov. 15, and Tankersley said Monday he was considering appealing the decision.

"If I wasn't in contempt before, I certainly am now," Tankersley said last week. "I consider that Judge Love was certainly unjust."

The incident began when Tankersley arose to defend a man accused of carrying a concealed weapon. Tankersley asked the court to release the man on his own recognizance pending a trial.

Love refused, and then the following exchange reportedly occurred:

TANKERSLEY: My client would like to say something.

LOVE: Permission denied. I have ruled on this matter.

the indictment carries a five-year maximum sentence.

The jury earlier in the trial had watched Mitchell's reddened face as they heard tapes in which Nixon says Mitchell must "bite the bullet" and accept the responsibility for the break-in.

In his opening statement, Hundley said, "The evidence will show that on April 14, 1973, when John Mitchell was brought down to Washington to bite the bullet, Mitchell, who had complete faith in his commander in chief, refuses to confess to a crime he didn't commit and sets forth with Ehrlichman his complete innocence."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Regional leaders of the United Mine Workers gathered to act on a fattened contract proposal as the national coal strike entered its third week today.

UMW officials said if the 38-member bargaining council of regional leaders approves the pact, the 8-to-10-day ratification process may be shortened so the mines can be reopened early next month. The council meets here today.

The council rejected the first industry proposal last week. The new one was hammered out by union and industry negotiators over the weekend under the prodding of federal mediators.

Details were not announced, but union sources said the tentative agreement provides a 10 per cent wage increase the first year, 4 per cent more in the second year, and 3 per cent in the third. Miners now make between $42 and $50 a day.

The earlier proposal would have provided a 9 per cent raise the first year and 3 per cent increases the next two years.

There's no change in the cost-of-living formula that guarantees an additional 1 cent an hour increase for every 0.4 per cent boost in the govern-

See certain vote recount for governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — James A. Rhodes' margin of victory over Gov. John J. Gilligan is expected to remain less than one-half per cent when the official count of the contest is completed late today or Wednesday.

With 85 of 88 counties reporting, Rhodes clung Monday to a 12,469-vote margin with 1,492,536 votes to Gilligan's 1,480,067.

Still to be counted are the large population centers of Summit, Cuyahoga and Hamilton counties.

As long as the margin remains less than one-half per cent (about a 15,300 vote difference) Gilligan is entitled to a recount at state expense.

With that prospect in mind, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has directed local election board members to prepare for a recount beginning Dec. 9 and hopefully to be completed within a week.

If Gilligan asks for the recount and that timetable is adhered to, Ohioans should know for sure around Dec. 15 who will be their next governor.

TANKERSLEY: Couldn't you even listen to him?

LOVE: I can't take the time.

TANKERSLEY: Take the time, your honor.

LOVE: Fifty dollars for contempt of court. I have ruled on this case.

TANKERSLEY: I think I have a right to be heard on this man's behalf, and I think, your honor...

LOVE: The next step you take will be in the county jail.

Love declined comment on the matter and referred to an order filed with the clerk of courts that Tankersley had been fined for violating the rules of the court and behavior in violation of the code of professional ethics and was fined after two warnings from the bench.

Sources said the other major industry concession would allow miners to take two consecutive summer vacation weeks. The first proposal would have required all miners to take one of those weeks at Christmas.

"The package is larger than in the original agreement. We did not give anything away," said one union source.

If UMW President Arnold Miller fails for the second time to win the bargaining council's approval, it could seriously prolong the walkout. It might also lead to more direct federal intervention, possibly the use of the Taft-Hartley Act, under which President Ford could order miners back to work for an 80-day "cooling off" period.

Tanaka quits as Japanese prime minister

TOKYO (AP) — Hailed two years ago as Japan's man of the future, Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka today announced he is resigning in shame and embarrassment over "misunderstandings" about the sources of his private fortune.

The 56-year-old maverick of Japanese politics said he would remain as prime minister until the ruling Liberal Democratic party can find a successor. This could take two weeks.

The leading contenders are former Finance Minister Takeo Fukuda, 69, Tanaka's chief political foe, and Finance Minister Masayoshi Ohira, 64, a powerful Tanaka supporter.

The resignation plunged the conservative government party into turmoil. The Fukuda group insisted that a new party president — and prime minister — be chosen through consultation among party leaders. The Ohira faction was holding out for a full-scale party vote.

Fukuda has the backing of former Prime Minister Eisaku Sato and former Deputy Prime Minister Takeo Miki, but this is regarded as insufficient. He is seeking a consensus because he feels he cannot defeat the combined Tanaka-Ohira forces in a straight vote among the dozen or so factions within the party. A combination of factions led by Tanaka, Ohira and Yasuhiro Nakasone — Tanaka's minister of international trade and industry — defeated Fukuda in 1972.

If the deadlock continues up to Dec. 10, a party convention is expected to be called.

Nicknamed the "computerized bulldozer" because of his energy and skill with finances, Tanaka began his stewardship of the nation in July 1972 by spearheading a successful campaign to recognize mainland China. He ended it after another spectacular, the Nov. 18-22 visit of Gerald Ford, the first American president ever to come to Japan.

In between, inflation, soaring living costs, international monetary problems and suggestions by the respected Bungei Shinju magazine that he had used his office for private gain brought him down.

Lancione challenge readied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House Speaker A.G. Lancione has called Democratic state representatives to a caucus Dec. 3 at which his leadership is expected to face a stiff challenge.

State Rep. Vernal Riffe, speaker pro tem from New Boston, is believed to have enough votes lined up to successfully challenge Lancione for the $25,000-a-year speaker's post.

Lancione, of Bellaire, made no mention of the struggle when he followed custom Monday as the senior member of the House and informed the other 58 members and members-elect of the caucus. Lancione has served in the House for 15 terms.

"The purpose of the caucus is to designate our choice for Democrat leaders, as well as other officials needed in organizing the House when it convenes on Monday, Jan. 6, 1975, and any other business which may come to the attention of this caucus," he said in a letter.

In addition to speaker, the Democratic state representatives will choose a speaker pro tem, majority leader and assistant majority leader.

Those positions are currently held by Riffe, Barney Quilter of Toledo, and William L. Mallory of Cincinnati, respectively.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices floated aimlessly today in an atmosphere of cautious waiting.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 1.49 at 610.45, but gainers held a slight over-all edge on losers at the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said many investors were holding back to await signs of union attitudes toward a revised tentative coal industry contract settlement reached over the weekend. They also noted a general air of caution over the economic slump.

General Electric was the most-active issue on the NYSE down 1 3/4 at 34 in a 176,300-share block trade.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index dropped 1.02 to 62.29.

Sterling Drug slipped 5/8 to 20 3/4, and Bio-Dynamics, the Amex volume leader, jumped 1 1/4 to 13 3/4.

The NYSE's noon composite index of allits listed common stocks was up .02 at 36.55.

Rocky foes criticized by solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Testimony critical of Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller is drawing criticism in return from some members of the House Judiciary Committee.

The panel began hearing from citizens and organizations for and against Rockefeller's confirmation Monday and was to complete the testimony today.

Rockefeller was accused Monday of engineering the 1971 Attica prison assault, helping bring "the destruction of a whole segment of our society — the unborn" through abortions and of getting the vice presidential nomination illegally.

Some testimony was challenged by 11 of the 38 committee members at different points. And toward the end of the day, Rep. David W. Dennis, R-Ind., asked, "What kind of testimony are we getting?"

"There are reasons to be against Rockefeller, but we're not getting them," Dennis contended. "We've had it from the right, we've had it from the left and none of it is worth anything."

The committee remains on schedule to complete its hearings next week and vote on Rockefeller's confirmation the following week. The Senate Rules Committee late last week recommended confirmation by a vote of 9 to 0.

Panel pushes new school aid formula

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A legislative committee will recommend to the General Assembly a new $350 million school finance formula that educators hope will equalize the flow of state dollars to public schools.

The guaranteed equal yield approach is designed to provide an equal return of state dollars for each mill of local tax levied for operation of public schools.

The decision to change the present school foundation formula will be a key recommendation in a report the Education Review Committee is preparing for release Dec. 15.

If adopted by the 111th General Assembly, the new formula would guarantee enough state money to provide $48 per pupil for each mill levied locally up to 20. The state would contribute enough to meet $42 per pupil per mill for each mill between 20 and 30.

Millage would be considered on an equalized property tax base within local districts which would have to levy at least 20 mills to qualify for the program.

In 1976, the target date for putting the formula into effect, districts with under 20 mills would be credited with "one-half the difference between their actual State Equalized Millage and 20 State Equalized Mills," the committee said. That is, to allow time to phase into the program, a district levying only 16 mills would initially be credited with 18 mills.

The formula would cost $350 million in new state money for the 1976-77 biennium, consultants told the committee, but it would provide $1,008 per pupil in combined state-local revenues the first year and $1,101 the second.

Ludlow Falls lighting set

LUDLOW FALLS, Ohio (AP) — Miami County's 30-foot falls and three-quarter acre gorge at Ludlow Falls will be lighted this holiday season by more than 25,000 light bulbs.

Last year Ludlow Falls were dark during the holidays because the volunteer fire department, which sponsors the annual event, abided by former President Nixon's request that all holiday lighting be eliminated because of the energy shortage.

This year the falls will be lit from Dec. 14 through Jan. 5, according to David D. Vallieu, chairman of the holiday lighting display.

An average of 100,000 people visit the display annually, Vallieu said.

New law repealed at Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Canton City Council voted early this morning to repeal a city ordinance approved by voters Nov. 5.

The ordinance had been in effect only 24 minutes.

By a 12-2 vote, the council returned city firemen to a 56-hour work week.

City voters by a slim margin approved an initiative petition shortening the work week to 48 hours. But after it passed, police and city truck drivers said it amounted to a pay increase and demanded the same.

Mayor Stanley Cmich said if the ordinance and pay increases were put into effect, it would cost the city $1.8 million a year. He said the city couldn't afford it.

The council contended the voters didn't realize what they were doing when they approved the measure.

Why not joint hearings?

House and Senate members are jealous of their separate prerogatives. They do not take kindly to suggestions for speeding up the business of the two bodies through joint inquiry into questions they must deal with.

In general this seems to be a good thing. There is some public benefit in having the distinctive identities of Senate and House fully preserved. A case can nevertheless be made for collaboration at the investigative committee level in considering a vice presidential nomination. This is brought to mind, of course, by the spectacle of Nelson A. Rockefeller undergoing prolonged questioning both in the Senate and now in the House.

Under these circumstances there is bound to be much duplication, with the second hearings to some extent a replay of what went before. It would seem not unreasonable for the two bodies to stage one comprehensive set of hearings, with separate final votes on confirmation.

A WORD EDGEWISE By John P. Roche

Willing to knock heads

WASHINGTON — If any of the aspiring Democratic candidates for the 1976 presidential nomination thinks he has labor in his hip pocket, he had better think again. The top leadership of the AFL-CIO has no "favorite son."

Indeed, at the recent meeting of the organization's Executive Council, none of the members expressed any enthusiasm for getting into immediate presidential action. This feeling is, of course, based on a close reading of the current political situation.

For example, it is clear that the "New Politics" faction does not have a preemptive capability: We will not wake up some morning in 1976 and find another George McGovern walking off with delegates simply because none of the supposed professionals were watching the store. The exit of Senator

Edward Kennedy, who could have preempted in 1976, leaves an open field, and probably an open convention. So — as Al Barkan of COPE and other labor activists see it — let the boys go to it and see who shapes up.

The union people are also watching with great care the upcoming Democratic mini-convention, scheduled for Kansas City in December. The gut issue here is the use of quotas in delegate selection for nominating conventions. Because of Barkan's vigorous objections, and the "unfortunate" fact that he was supported by a majority, the New Politics types walked out of the preparatory meeting screaming "racism." It's a nice, newsworthy smear, but actually race is not the issue. The issue is democracy.

To be precise, under the democratic ground rules one gets office — at every level — by getting more votes than his or her opponents. In ideal terms, one hopes that all elements in the community achieve representation, but that means that women, blacks, Chicanos, Irish, Finns and so on have to get the necessary votes. (Has anyone suggested that the Hawaiian election be overruled because Japanese-Americans swept the board?) This is the only game in town.

However, the New Politics faction only likes this game when they win. And at Miami Beach in 1972 they successfully kicked out a duly elected group of Illinois delegates and replaced them with a crew that elected themselves in somebody's living room. The ideological basis of this attack was that the elected delegates did not really represent the area: There were too few women and members of minority groups. At the same time, they successfully defended the California "winner-takes-all" procedure, which ran head-on into another guideline, because, of course, McGovern won California.

Labor, along with the Coalition for a Democratic Majority (which, I should note in fairness to the reader, is a group I helped found), has labored mightily to eliminate the utterly undemocratic concept of quotas. At the moment, energetic efforts are underway to reach a satisfactory compromise, but it is hard to deal with a group that says in effect, "If we don't get our way, we will take our ball and glove and go home."

Which brings us to what is probably the basic source of labor's sour view of the Democrats. The AFL-CIO does not like to be taken for granted. President George Meany is basically a genial man, but what is he to make of a Senator who turns up only once every six years — screaming for help? Politics is not a love affair, and the AFL-CIO is far too sophisticated to turn down such a request, from a man with a good voting record, simply out of pique. But it is demeaning to be treated like the furniture. And it is infuriating to be billed by leading Democrats as the "conservative" counterweight to the New Politics faction.

On Nov. 7, for instance, President Meany let go with a blast at Senate Majority leader Mike Mansfield for playing politics with the issue of wage and price controls. His point was that Mansfield and other Democrats are primarily interested in loading "this depression onto the other party." Was this a "conservative" or pro-Republican statement? Of course not: Meany is the spokesman for 15 million American workers who don't want a depression. Members of the House and Senate will not be among the unemployed — Meany's constituents will. It might be added that the upper middle-class aficionados of the New Politics are unlikely to wind up on welfare, though they may have to give up that trip to the West Indies.

In short, as President Meany said to me, "Our job is to help our people. We are not the labor section of the Democratic National Committee, and right now we're not promoting anybody for President. We want to stop a depression, and if that means we've got to knock some Democratic heads together, that's their problem. We're not going to stand around watching a catastrophe, hoping it will elect a Democrat in '76. Our people are being murdered by inflation in 1974 — they can't wait two years for some mystical sunrise."

Use 'goose' for peace, pilot urges

BEAVER, Pa. (AP) — At age 70, longtime aviator Al Bennett wants to fly the "Spruce Goose" on a mission for world peace.

The "Spruce Goose" is the nickname for a mammoth, white seaplane, built during World War II by celebrated aviator-billionaire Howard Hughes, who piloted the craft on its first and only flight.

Hughes has since faded from sight, but the "Spruce Goose" still sits in an air-conditioned hangar in Long Beach, Calif., and Bennett wants the federal government to let him fly it around the country.

The silver-haired Bennett, who owns a large airplane brokerage in this Pennsylvania town, says the plane will bring national attention to his campaign for world peace.

"The American people are ready to support something positive," says Bennett, who is trying to get permission for his peace flight from the General Services Administration.

"The GSA says it wants the plane used in a way that would do the most good for the most people, and I am the one who wants to fly it," Bennett says.

Assembly OKs major measure

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 110th General Assembly resurrected and passed during its one-day session on housing two bills with important effects on local governments.

Rep. Thomas P. Gilmartin, D-51 Youngstown, and others managed to get out of the Senate Rules Committee a measure requiring local governments on threat of being fined to file financial reports with the state on time.

The state auditor's office asked for the legislation in a bid to cut off what until now have been occasionally late and, therefore, illegal reports.

The present law requires local subdivisions—counties, municipalities and townships—to file within 60 days after the close of a fiscal year. This is changed to 90 days.

Currently there is no penalty for late filing. Gilmartin's bill provides for a penalty of $25 for each day a report is late, up to a maximum of $750.

The state auditor is given the authority to waive all or part of a fine after a delinquent report finally is received.

The bill retains a requirement that subdivisions and public institutions also covered by the bill must publish their financial report in at least one county newspaper. The deadline for such publishing is changed from March 31 to 90 days after the close of the fiscal year.

In another new bill, the legislature raised retirement benefits of sheriffs and their deputies, giving them the same benefits as members of the State Police and Firemen's Disability and Pension Fund and the Ohio Highway Patrol.

The Legislative Service Commission estimated the change could cost employers, in this case counties, a total of about $790,000 statewide.

Participation in the increased plan is optional for sheriffs and their deputies.

Under the bill sheriffs and their deputies could retire if they wish at age 52, instead of the present 60, if they have total service of 25 years including no more than seven in the military.

Their pensions could be no more than 66 per cent of his final average salary. Pensions are based on the number of years of service. Average salary is figured by dividing the five years of highest salary by five.

Stand by with the butterfly net

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law (I'll call her Mary) hates red hair. I have red hair and so do my mother and my brother. My son, who is married to this red-haired hater, has brownish hair with a slight reddish cast, but Mary insists that he is blond. Mary says she has hated red hair all her life—especially on girls. She is expecting her first child any day now and she says she has had nightmares about having a baby girl with fiery red hair. (She tells me this right to my face, mind you, and when I'm sitting there with red hair.)

Abby, what does a red-headed mother-in-law say to a daughter-in-law who says, "If I have a red-headed baby girl, I'll drown her."

BURNED UP
DEAR ABBY: She can't be serious. But don't take any chances. Be right there with a pink butterfly net for Mary in case she gives birth to a red-headed baby girl.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 16-year-old girl who has been going with dudes since I was 12. They hang around my house and take me for a ride to park and make out, but when it comes to school dances and movie dates, they ask another girl.

I read in your column that boys like to be seen in public with girls they respect. Then I realized they didn't respect me. That shook me up, and now I am trying to improve my reputation. But how can I refuse to park and make out with a guy once I've said okay? Or am I hopeless?

HAS-BEEN AT 16

DEAR HAS: You are not hopeless. You've already conquered the first two steps in self-improvement. (1) Knowing you need it. (2) Being determined to improve. Now flatly refuse to park. If the boys ask, "How come all of a sudden?" tell him that you've changed your way of living.

It may take a while to build a better reputation, but it can be done. Be consistent. You're on the right track.

DEAR ABBY: To "Little Me in Hartford," who finds people in amazement to think a man as handsome, brilliant and witty as her husband would marry a dolt like her! No, you are not alone.

I, too, am married to a handsome, witty, charming professional man. I am rather plain.

When our engagement was announced (we worked together) the amazement on the part of many was apparent.

However, 18 years and three children later, we are still married, and in my wallet I carry his picture along with a poem I clipped from a magazine when I was a bride.

The poem reads: "Her face and figure aren't so hot; Her wit's a little dim. So what's she got I haven't got? HIM!"

Ohio Demop plans bared

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Democrats in the Ohio Legislature will try during six days in January to shove through a bill that would take tax collection away from the incoming Republican administration and give it to the office of Democratic Treasurer Gertrude Donahey.

House Speaker A. G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, told the Democratic State Executive Committee Monday night the bill already has been proposed for introduction Jan. 6.

It is one of at least three bills that Democrats will try to ram through while they control both houses and the governor's office.

Although legislators take their seats in the 111th General Assembly Jan. 6, Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes will not be sworn in until Jan. 13.

Lancione, a member of the executive committee, said the switch in tax collection from the tax commissioner, an administration appointee, would mean 300 to 500 jobs for Democrats. Two other major pieces of Democratic legislation aimed for the six days, the committee was told, would be bills redrawing Ohio's 23 congressional districts and another stripping Republican Secretary of State Ted W. Brown of his power to accept or reject county party recommendations for local boards of elections.

One of the 54 committee members in attendance — the committee has 93 members but 91 votes because of three cochairmen in Cuyahoga County — suggested particular attention be paid to the 17th District.

"We want Ashbrook cut up," she said, referring to the district now held by U.S. Rep. John Ashbrook, R-17 Johnstown.

State Chairman William A. Lavelle called the redistricting bill the "righting of a wrong" by Rhodes 10 years ago when a similar bill was rammed through a lame-duck legislature.

Republicans control Ohio's congressional delegation 15-8. Although Democrats picked up one seat Nov. 5 they lost another.

William F. Boyle of Toledo, Lucas

County chairman and one who Brown refused to reappoint to the local board, said he thought election reform was more important than redistricting.

Gov. John J. Gilligan, who spent an hour at the meeting, said the legislative leadership would have to decide what legislation could be passed in six days.

Lavelle said later that all the measures would be pushed. He urged John Blum, a deputy state auditor who suggested there may be more, to come up with a list.

Gilligan said that despite his own loss the state party was in "a position of power and influence." He again took personal blame for his loss.

Gilligan did say there would be a recount of the vote and Eugene "Pete" O'Grady said it was already being planned, with $30,000 budgeted above the costs of the state to provide it.

The money, he said, will be used to hire attorneys and professional computer experts to assist in the operation.

Mainly because of its loss in the governor's race, the party announced a belt-tightening operation. It will move into cheaper headquarters and cut its staff, which had hit a peak of 27, to nine. Office expenses will be cut from $450,370 in 1974 to $142,000 in 1975.

Union agreed to limit their offensive nuclear arsenals to fewer than 2,500 long-range missiles and bombers. The two countries also agreed to limit the number of missiles carrying multiple warheads, the report said.

In addition, the United States probably would not have to make any substantial cuts in the strength of its current nuclear forces under the proposed agreement, but the Soviet Union would, according to the Times report.

Returning from a week-long overseas trip that included a meeting in Vladivostok with Brezhnev, Ford and his aides expressed optimism over the arms agreement.

But congressional and Pentagon sources showed some skepticism as they awaited more specifics on the agreement, which Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger called a breakthrough in strategic arms limitation (SALT) negotiations.

Ford's briefing with Democratic and Republican members of the House and Senate also included key members from both parties on the congressional Foreign Affairs, Armed Services and Appropriations committees. But it did not include the prime administration critic on nuclear weapons policy, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash.

Jackson has been demanding that any SALT II agreement with the Soviets provide balance in both the numbers and force of missiles.

Among the worries expressed by some members of Congress and Pentagon staff aides was whether the ceilings in the new agreement will take into account the payload of missiles. The Russians have missiles much bigger than does the United States, with three times the payload.

And there have been questions of whether Ford was in too much of a hurry during the two-day summit meeting and "grabbed at the first agreement he could get."

Teammates set to visit Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford will welcome his high school football teammates to the White House on Thursday for a Thanksgiving Day brunch.

The men who played football with Ford in Grand Rapids, Mich., in the 1930s traditionally get together on Thanksgiving. This year was Ford's turn to host the group.

Snow flurries were to diminish at the end of the day as a narrow ridge of high pressure moved easterly through the state.

Skies were clear over most of the state this morning, except along the Lake Erie shore and in northeastern counties. A 10-mile wide snow band was reported from the lake shore east of Cleveland to southeast between Akron and Youngstown.

Snow fall of up to four inches was reported in the area covered by the band.

Wednesday's highs are to be from the mid 30s to the low 40s, with a chance of light snow possibly mixed with rain in the extreme southern counties.

Near seasonable temperatures Thursday through Saturday with a chance of showers Saturday. Highs in the low to mid 40s Thursday and in the mid to upper 40s Saturday. Lows generally in the low 30s.

eager to have it happen. "If treatment is required before the arrival of a doctor in order to save a patient's life, I have the necessary training to do so," she said, "but the physician has more experience, and I would rather he be there."

Kunz added that a number of crisis situations have arisen among the medical patients in the hospital during the three years of the weekend doctors program. "The doctors have attended to these patients while their private physicians were being summoned, and I have no doubt that several lives have been saved," he said.

Kunz concluded that, "this new program will allow the hospital to provide the community with the best possible medical service — on a full-time basis."

Large crowd attends Thanksgiving program

A huge crowd attended the Thanksgiving program presented Monday night by several vocal groups from Miami Trace High School. The program was held in Grace United Methodist Church.

Featured in the program were the Symphonic Choir, the Girls Glee Club and the Miami Trace Folksingers. The program opened with a candlelight procession.

Highlighting the performance were a solo by Denise Beoddy, who sang a portion of Gordon Young's "Three Short Psalms," and Vernon Stanforth who presented a short Thanksgiving message.

All three vocal groups received outstanding instrumental accompaniment from Else Hill, pianist, Mrs. Gene Hughes, organist, and Sheryl Pendleton, Rose Perry and Bob Spengler, who formed a trumpet trio.

Mrs. Rick Stinson directed the vocalists and Aaron Spalding directed the instrumental work. Thanksgiving readings were presented by Cindy Baird, Toni McDonald, Denise Carpenter, Nancy Rapp, Marcia Markel, Kim Conley, Sherree Holloway, Gail Jenkins and Charles Haines.

The program concluded with a candlelight recessional.

Rev. and Mrs. Hughes now reside in Idaho

Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church at Logan Elm Village near Circleville, was the setting for the marriage of Miss Evangeline Ruth Miller and the Rev. Gary Dean Hughes. The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert P. Miller Sr., of Circleville, formerly of Sabina. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred T. Hughes of Portland, Oregon.

The Rev. Robert P. Miller Sr., former pastor of the Sabina United Methodist Church, father of the bride, assisted by her brother, Rev. Joseph E. Miller Sr., of Carlisle, Pa., officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Arrangements of white gladioli graced the altar and twin candelabra.

Mrs. Walter Stackhouse, organist, and Robert P. Miller Jr., vocalist, brother of the bride, presented wedding selections.

Miss Miller wore a floor-length gown of white satin with fitted bodice and empire waist. The chapel-length train was trimmed in Rosepoint lace with seed pearls, as was the bodice and skirt of the gown. The long full sleeves ended in fingertip cuffs. Her elbow-length veil was of three-tier illusion and gathered by a cluster bow of satin. Her only jewelry was a pair of gold earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Joseph S. Green of McClure, Va., matron of honor, wore a floor-length gown of light blue with bodice of patchwork in pastel shades. The long white sleeves and collar were trimmed in eyelet lace. The empire waist was drawn by a long sash in the back. She carried a white long-stemmed rose. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Joseph E. Miller of Carlisle, Pa. and Mrs. Robert P. Miller Jr. of Columbus, sisters-in-law of the bride, and junior bridesmaid, Miss Teresa Marie Miller, niece of the bride of Columbus, wore gowns identical to that of the matron of honor. Each carried a single long-stemmed white rose with white ribbon.

The Rev. Russell Libb of Berlin Center, served as best man. Seating the wedding guests were Randal Morse of Portland, Ore., Cyril Carr of Deefield, Ill., Tim Brittain of North Carolina, and Robert Owen Miller, of Columbus, nephew of the bride. Joseph E. Miller

MRS. GARY D. HUGHES

Jr., of Carlisle, Pa., nephew of the bride, carried his great-grandmother Moore's wedding band on a pillow.

Mrs. Miller, the bride's mother, wore a pink and beige knit floor-length dress with short sleeves, A-line style, and carried a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a light blue sleeveless formal length dress with a corsage of pink roses.

Hostesses for the reception held in the church Fellowship Room following the wedding were Mrs. Elden Neff of Ashville, Miss Darlene Neff, Miss Janice Glick, Miss Christine Lindsey, Columbus, and Mrs. Carol Hubbell of Sabina. The bride's table was decorated in blue and white, and the tiered wedding cake was also decorated in blue and white.

The couple is residing at 4105-5 West State St., Boise, Idaho 83703, where the Rev. Mr. Hughes is associate pastor of Boise Friends Church. He is a graduate of George Fox College, Newberg, Ore., where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree, and also from Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Ky., where he received a master of divinity degree. Mrs. Hughes, a graduate of McComb High School, also attended Asbury College at Wilmore, Ky., where she was executive secretary at the Seminary, and for two and one-half years was head admissions clerk at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

CF Board Directors installed

Persinger Hall, First Presbyterian Church, was the setting Monday evening for the annual dinner and special awards meeting of the Paint Valley Council of Camp Fire Girls. Leaders, assistants, committee chairmen and special guests were introduced and awards were given to those with several years of service in the organization, along with the appreciation certificates and special awards. Mrs. Charles Zinn was program chairman.

New officers for the year were installed by Mr. Edward Fisher, former president of the board. Installed were Paul Edgington, president; Charles Tye, first vice president; Mrs. Donald Wood, second vice president; Mrs. Gene Sagar, treasurer; Mrs. Herbert Satterfield, recording secretary; and Mrs. Gerald Burkett, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Burkett was presented a 10-year pin and Hiiteni award by Mrs. Fred James, awards chairman; Mrs. Gerald Wheat, Mrs. Nancy Hamilton, Mrs. Irma Gardner and Mrs. Aileen Wilson, received five-year pins; and four received three year certificates. Tie tacks were presented to Dave Hurley, Allen O. McClung and David Looker. Mr. Tye received the John Collier pin; and Frank Sanderson, outgoing president, received a plaque and the Sebago pin for service rendered; Mrs. Sanderson was presented a Sebago pin and charm; Mr. Paul Sullivan was also presented a Sebago pin; Mrs. Ralph Tate the Wakan pin; Mrs. Robert Riley the Charlotte Joy Farnsworth pin; Mrs. Robert Lee, Shawnequas, and Mrs. Lawrence Dumford, CF candy chairman, a certificate of appreciation. Mrs. James was also presented a surprise award for giving many volunteer hours of service to the CF program.

Several leaders and assistants were presented charms for having assisted with the CF Day Program. Pam Everhart led the salute to the flag and Joyce Gardner the invocation.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Donald Murdock, representing the Community Chest, Mr. Walter Wingeier and Mrs. Robert W. Fries of The Record-Herald. All were entertained following the presentation of awards by a Karate demonstration, by members of the local Washington C.H. class.

Table decorations were made by the Chillicothe CF Adventure group with Mrs. Paul Sullivan as leader; programs were by the Jolly Bluebirds with Mrs. Tom Vretos, leader; and place cards and favors were made by the Belle Aire Princesses with Mrs. David Shepler, leader.

Apple seeds harmful

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Can an apple a day hurt you?

If you eat too many of the seeds it can, according to Dr. Jack Beal, a professor of pharmacy at Ohio State University.

Limited quantities of the seeds are harmless, he says, but too many can be lethal.

Pits from peaches, plums, cherries and apricots are much more toxic in large quantities, he said. Eight or ten pits can be fatal if chewed.

"These pits contain cyanogenic glycosides which, when they undergo hydrolysis (the addition of water during decomposition), liberate hydrogen cyanide," said Dr. Beal.

Vandalism charge dismissed

A charge of vandalism lodged against a Washington C. H. man was dismissed by acting Judge Omar Schwartz Monday in Municipal Court for failure to show probable cause by the prosecution.

Phillip K. Moore, 323 N. Hinde St., had been charged with knowingly committing vandalism to the property of the Fayette County Board of Education. Robert Simpson was the attorney for the defendant. Moore had been charged in connection with vandalism at Miami Trace High School. Dennis W. Stall, 21, Cincinnati, was fined $100 after he pleaded guilty to a charge of resisting arrest and Joseph W. Foster, 64, of 403 Eastern Ave., was fined $25 when he pleaded guilty to a disorderly conduct by intoxication charge.

Buddie J. Shepherd, 40, Dayton, was also fined $25 after pleading guilty to a charge of being voluntarily intoxicated. He was credited with time already served in jail on the fine.

In one case heard Friday by Judge Schwartz, a charge of driving while intoxicated was reduced to reckless operation through plea bargaining of the prosecuting attorney, Gary Smith and John C. Bryan, the defense attorney for Bert Hall, 109 S. Fayette St.

A jury trial request was withdrawn and Hall changed his plea to guilty on the lesser charge. He was fined $50 and ordered to pay court costs on the reckless operation charge.

Kiwanis holds ladies party

The Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club met Monday night in the Lafayette Inn for their ladies Night dinner.

Members and their wives enjoyed dinner at the restaurant prior to a short business meeting. Following the meeting the group attended the Miami Trace Thanksgiving concert at Grace United Methodist Church.

Plans for the Kiwanis Club's family Christmas party have been finalized. The party will be held Dec. 16 in Persinger Hall at the First Presbyterian Church.

WCH man sentenced on forgery charge

A Washington C.H. man arrested by city police for forgery has pleaded guilty in Fayette County Common Pleas Court and been sentenced by Judge Evelyn W. Coffman.

Charles E. Tillis Jr., 19, of Washington C.H., has been sentenced to a term of one to five years in the Chillicothe Correctional Institute.

Tillis was slated for trial Dec. 11, but appeared with his attorney, Dennis Ulrich, in Common Pleas Court Friday and waived his right to a trial by jury. He then entered a plea of guilty.

After a statement of the facts from assistant county prosecutor John H. Roszmann, Judge Coffman found the plea to be proper and sentenced Tillis.

He had been indicted by a Fayette County grand jury Oct. 25.

Auto sales still down; outlook bad

DETROIT (AP) — Thirteen months into its longest slump since World War II, the sputtering auto industry posted a sharp 35 per cent sales decline in mid-November amid predictions of worse times to come.

"I don't see any sign of it getting better," said a concerned Henry Ford II as the industry was reporting its second worst performance for a Nov. 11-20 period in 14 years.

"We've got a period we've got to live through, but it can get worse. I don't think it's bottomed out yet," the chairman of Ford Motor Co. said Monday.

The dismal sales report was generally expected by the auto companies, who already had announced sweeping plant shutdowns and worker layoffs in the wake of lagging sales.

Nearly 200,000 hourly and white collar workers will be on layoff next month because of plant closings and cutbacks in other company operations. About 83,000 of the workers have received indefinite furloughs.

Total sales to date for the year are now off 23 per cent from a year ago to 6,841,226, with General Motors down 27 per cent, Ford 16 per cent, Chrysler Corp. 20 per cent and American Motors 11 per cent.

The four U.S. auto makers reported sales of 190,093 for the Nov. 11-20 period, a 34.7 per cent drop from 258,818 in the same 1973 period, based on the daily selling rate. There was one less selling day last year.

Remodeling completion at hall eyed

Further improvements to the interior of council hall on Rawlings Street were outlined when Knight of Columbus members of Colman Council No. 5386 met in regular session Sunday night.

James Donohoe, chairman of the remodeling committee, stated that work would get underway in December. Named to assist in supervising completion of the proposed project were James Wissinger and Chester Dean.

Committees were appointed for the Children's Home Christmas party set for Dec. 20 when council members will be working in cooperation with Y-Gradale Sorority. Grand Knight William Stahl urged full participation of the membership in the preparations to insure the success of this annual event.

Recommendation was made of Eugene Langen as financial secretary to succeed Ronald Pohlman, who is leaving the community to make his home in Lima.

Initiation of new members will be held Dec. 22.

Tentative plans were also proposed for another joint social gathering of Shriners and Knights of Columbus for next summer.

Now in progress is the annual euchre tournament which started in October and will end in February. There are 16 participants in the tourney. Committee in charge included Eugene Gad, Parker Hedgebeth and James Donohoe. Presentation of trophy will be made at the close of the contest.

Before adjournment Stahl asked that members join in receiving Holy Communion at St. Colman's Catholic Church at the 7:30 a.m. mass Dec. 8. A breakfast at Knights of Columbus hall will follow.

Lion gridders receive final recognition

By LARRY WATTS

Record-Herald Sports Editor

Carrying the theme of "You Stole Our Hearts", Monday night's banquet for the 1974 Washington football teams and cheerleaders has now been stored away as another fond memory from a winning season.

From the moment the last second ticked away on the scoreboard clock last season, the pressure was on this year's varsity crew. Although coach Maurice Pfeifer and his staff does not believe in a rebuilding year, the Lions lost 20 seniors from the 1973 Ohio Class AA state champs and a team which has been rated as the school's biggest in its history. Left behind on what was probably the smallest team in the school's history was only one starter on offense and three returnees on defense. With every team setting its sights on the Lions, it was indeed a challenging season for Washington Senior High.

Although the Lions carded a 7-3 overall mark and finished third in the South Central Ohio League race, the people of Washington Court House learned that championship seasons do not always rest on a teams' record. This year, the Lions had the deck stacked against them many times, but several teams still found their size being out-weighted by the desire and determination exemplified by every member of the Washington squad.

Physically, the Lions will have very little trouble replacing the 10 graduating seniors, who helped compile a 23-7 record in their three years on the varsity. However, as captain Jeff Brown challenged next year's returning players, now is the time to start mentally preparing oneself for next season.

Combining the records of the five football teams, Washington Court House posted a 21-8-1 overall mark this year. Under the leadership of coaches Don Gibbs and Terry Feick, the freshman team, which had 22 players on the roster, was 5-1 on the season. Rodger Mickle's seventh graders won two of three contests, while the junior high was 4-1. The reserve team, coached by Jon Creamer and Dale Lynch, was 3-2-1.

Seventeen varsity players received their first-year letters, while four players each were recognized for their second-year and third-year awards. Members of the reserve team were presented with letters and certificates, while each freshman player earned a numeral.

Coach Pfeifer presented five special awards to players during the banquet. Senior center Jeff DaRif earned the weightlifting award. The most consistent players, voted by the members of the team, were quarterback Brown on offense and junior lineman Brian Haines on defense. Senior linebacker Larry Dumford accumulated 266 defensive points to receive the first defensive point award. Senior Sam Aills was recognized as the most improved player by his teammates.

In addition to the awards received at the banquet, several of the players have been honored with other post-season awards. Brown was also recognized as the All-SCOL punter for the past two seasons and the Class AA Southeastern District first team kicking specialist this year. Dumford, in addition to being the All-SCOL linebacker for two years, is also a first team linebacker in the district. Gilbert Sparkman, All-SCOL defensive back and honorary captain of the SCOL defensive unit, was selected to first team district honors. Haines, who was a first team All-SCOL defensive lineman, was picked to the second team offensive guard slot in the district. Junior Richard Halthcock earned first team All-SCOL defensive lineman honors.

Three players captured honorable mention berths on the All-SCOL team. Being honored were defensive end Tim O'Flynn, split end Mark Lamberson and tight end David Thompson. All three players are juniors.

Pfeifer also presented a special appreciation award to Chester Brown, president of the Washington Football Boosters. Brown has been an officer in the club for the past three years. Pfeifer told the audience that Brown best exemplified what the fans in Washington Court House are really like.

Other special awards during the evening included a copy of the 1974 Sunburst being presented to Mrs. Helen Ernst, who has not missed a Lions' home game in 59 years, by athletic director Tom Rankin; a check for $150 being presented to the varsity cheerleaders by the boosters club and jackets awarded to 1973 graduates Jeff Tuvell and Kevin Terry, who assisted with this year's football program.

Entertainment for the evening was given by members of the Madral Choir from Washington Senior High School.

Another banquet has brought to a close yet another season and the playing days of several seniors, but the memories will linger on. As coach Pfeifer told the audience, "If these players did not steal your hearts, then you have no hearts at all."

Oklahoma holds top ranking

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — No one should know more about the Oklahoma Sooners than Barry Switzer, but the Sooner coach says that even he was surprised by his team's offensive output in Saturday's 28-14 victory over Nebraska.

Although the top-ranked Sooners had to score 21 points in the final 20 minutes for the margin of victory, they moved the ball consistently against a fine Nebraska defense, gaining 482 yards on the ground.

The showing kept the mighty Sooners in the No. 1 position in this week's Associated Press rankings, released Monday.

Oklahoma will seek to extend college football's longest winning streak to 20 games this Saturday against arch-rival Oklahoma State. The game will end the season for the Sooners, since they are barred from bowl play because of an NCAA probation.

Switzer said Monday he thinks the victory over Nebraska, plus Michigan's 14-12 loss to Ohio State, bolsters the Sooners' national title hopes.

"If 50 million people could have seen us play Nebraska, I would feel like they would have to be impressed with our football team," Switzer said. "I was certainly impressed because I have tremendous respect for Nebraska. I know what kind of football team they are."

The Sooners retained their top ranking by garnering 49 first-place votes and 1,134 points to lead Alabama, the only other unbeaten and untied major college football team. Alabama got 10 first place votes and 1,037 points.

Ohio State held third with 968 points, Michigan was fourth with 795 and Notre Dame fifth with 641. Southern California, Auburn, Texas A&M, Nebraska and Penn State rounded out the Top Ten.

The remainder of the rankings showed Maryland, Miami of Ohio, North Carolina State, Michigan State, Houston, Baylor, Texas, Pitt, Wisconsin and Brigham Young.

Switzer said Oklahoma was in a better shape now than last year when it was ranked second at the end of the regular season, but fell to third after

'he bowl games. Notre Dame won the championship after a Sugar Bowl victory over Alabama.

"We were in a different situation last year," Switzer said. "We were the second team at that time. And ABC, the Sugar Bowl and the press — you people produced a national championship game on New Year's Day. It was an extravaganza. It happened that the team that won that was going to be the national champion."

Alabama and once-beaten and fifth-ranked Notre Dame will be meeting in the Orange Bowl. But the Irish still must play Southern California and Alabama has a Nov. 29 date with Auburn.

Mentioning Alabama's close call with Florida State and Notre Dame's trouble with Navy, Switzer said, "I don't see anyway they can make the Orange Bowl into a national championship affair."

"When we have played a close game, it's been against a team that can win a national championship — a Texas, a Nebraska. I feel like in the big ball games we've won and played well."

"But you don't know what's liable to happen. A lot of people may forget us by the time Jan. 2 rolls around. We'll try not to allow that to happen."

Rangers' Hargrove selected AL Rookie of the Year

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Six years ago, the odds probably were greater that Mike Hargrove would be a star in the National Football League or the National Basketball Association than the American League Rookie of the Year.

It wasn't that he was such a promising football or basketball player, but more that his baseball background wasn't in the mold of a major league star.

However, it's not surprising that Hargrove was named Monday as the top AL rookie of 1974. He hit .323 as a first baseman-designated hitter and was a vital member of a Texas Ranger team that jumped from last-place jokes to pennant-contending respectability in one year.

"I try to figure out how it happened, but I can't," says Hargrove. "I considered going to TCU on a football scholarship after high school. If I had done that, I probably would be out coaching somewhere now."

Hargrove was a football and basketball standout at Perryton High School in the Texas Panhandle in the 1960s. He might have starred in baseball, too, if the school had fielded a team.

"I asked my coach why we didn't play baseball at school and he said it was too cold," says Hargrove. "I've heard talk they might start playing baseball there, but I doubt it."

Hargrove said he had some success in Little League and American Legion baseball, but his experience had been limited to some 20 games a year.

When he went to Northeastern State College in Oklahoma, his plans were to play only basketball and football, but his father persuaded him to go out for baseball, too.

His college football career lasted one year and he played basketball for two years, but Hargrove kept hitting baseballs for four years.

His college baseball performance was good but not eyeopening and he was picked by the Rangers in the 25th round of the 1972 baseball draft after some 500 other players were chosen.

Hargrove opened some eyes in 1973 when he hit .351 at Gastonia in the Class A Carolinas League, but few players make the jump from there to the big leagues.

"I wasn't invited to spring training until about two weeks before it started," he said. "I had no idea that I would be invited and it never entered my mind that would make the team. I thought Billy Martin just wanted to see what he had in the minor leagues."

Hargrove used injuries to regular first baseman Jim Spencer as a springboard to playing time in the early going, but it was a smooth batting stroke and a bundle of line drives that kept him in the line-up.

His average stayed in the .360 range for much of the summer before tailing off to the .320 level at the end.

The 25-year-old left-hander says he has no fear of the so-called sophomore jinx, because "I believe it happens when a rookie has a good year and gets complacent and I'm not gonna let that happen."

All-Big Ten team announced

By JERRY LISKA
AP Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Rose Bowlbound Ohio State captured six berths and co-champion Michigan grabbed five on the 1974 All-Big Ten Football Team named today by The Associated Press.

In all, nine schools were represented on the honor team selected by the AP's Midwest Football Board.

Ohio State's super tailback Archie Griffin was one of four unanimous choices as a member of the all-star backfield also including Buckeye quarterback Cornelius Greene and running backs Bill Marek of Wisconsin and Indiana's Courtney Snyder, only sophomore on the entire first-team unit.

The other unanimous picks were Wisconsin's powerful offensive tackle, Dennis Lick; Purdue's Olympian sprinter Larry Burton as a wide receiver, and Michigan's premier defensive back, Dave Brown.

Brown was one of five repeaters from last season's AP first team with Griffin, Marek and two Ohio State defensive stars—tackle Pete Cusick and deep back Neal Colzie.

The balloting for quarterback was tight among Greene, Michigan's Dennis Franklin and Michigan State's Charley Baggett. Although outplayed by Franklin in last Saturday's Ohio State shading of Michigan 12-10, Greene had a better overall conference campaign than the Wolverine.

Baggett almost single-handedly pulled Michigan State into a close title bid finish, but was shaded by Franklin for the second-team quarterback berth.

Purdue captured three first team berths, while Michigan State and Wisconsin had two apiece and Illinois, Iowa, Northwestern and Indiana got one each.

The All-Star team is loaded with experience, size and speed, with exceptional striking power represented in Griffin and Marek, two of the conference's most elusive backs in years.

Both juniors, Griffin piled up 1,134 rushing yards in eight games, but Marek came up with the best per game average, 159.3 to 143.0.

However, a midseason injury kept Marek out of two Big Ten games and his total was 956 although he closed against Minnesota last Saturday with a whopping 304 yards on 43 carries and five touchdowns.

Although Indiana's Snyder performed for the Big Ten's cellar team, the matter and said, "It's pretty obvious they're not going to listen to what I have to say. I'm not Don Canham. I work for him and if he says no, it's no."

Canham, Michigan's athletic director, said he is in favor of changing the bowl policy.

"We have a contract with the Pacific-8. That's where the change has to come from—unless you throw the Rose Bowl over," Canham said. "Their lawyers wrote the contract and not the Rose Bowl committee, and we signed it."

"There have been recent rumblings on the West Coast (against the one-bowl policy) because Southern Cal has been in the Rose Bowl so many times and other teams can't go to other bowls. I think there'll be a change, personally."

RETIRING TREASURER — Elmer Reed receives a certificate and plaque for his 20 years of service to the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society from Mrs. Charline Cunningham, unit president.

Reed honored by county cancer unit for service

A special tribute to Elmer N. Reed, retiring treasurer of the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society, highlighted the recent semi-monthly meeting of the unit's board of directors.

Reed, 619 Fairway Drive, was honored for his 20 years of service to the local unit and also for his contributions to both the national and state levels of the American Cancer Society.

Reed, who recently retired as an industrial engineer at the Armco Steel Corp. Metal Products Division plant here, came to Washington C.H. in 1951, having previously worked with the cancer society unit in Butler, Pa. He and his wife, Helen, immediately became interested in the local cancer unit which had been somewhat dormant since its beginning in 1947.

"In fact," Reed said, "the state was just starting to become organized. Although state headquarters had been set up in Cleveland," he said, "nothing much was being done in the counties and in local communities."

Some of the early unit presidents he recalled include William Junk, Bart Mahoney, Mrs. Martha Reiff and himself. He said that in 1951 Mrs. Reiff, in order to reactivate the local unit, served as president and also crusade chairman. Reed was appointed to the state division board of trustees in 1956 and held that position since then and was state chairman for two years and was national representative for a period. He has served as treasurer of the local unit since 1959.

REED SAID, "In looking back over the 20 years, we are all doing a much better job fighting cancer and particularly because of the dedicated work being done at the local levels. Helen and I have found the work most satisfying," he added, "and although we plan to continue our work with the local unit, it will be as board members without the responsibilities of holding offices."

Mrs. Charlene Barber, unit executive director, told the board the unit is now serving 13 cancer patients. Services include providing hospital beds in the home, wheelchairs, dressings, transportation to Columbus for treatment and other aids.

Unit president Mrs. Charline Cunningham announced that Mrs. Nellie Hardman has accepted the post of branch coordinator; Mrs. Donna Jean Johnson is the new unit treasurer; Mrs. Mabel Rolfe is the new board secretary; Mrs. Wayne (Joyce) Hidy and Mrs. George (Betty) Lundberg are co-chairmen of the service committee; Mrs. Eleanor Henry and Mrs. Sally Antoine are co-chairmen of the public education committee; and that other board members at-large are Mrs. Jane Winttingham, George Lundberg, Mrs. Gene (Mildred) Donohoe and Mrs. Reed.

The committee handling the Christmas card sale reported the net profit will exceed $900. Workers include Mrs. Ann Cox, Mrs. Jeannie Rice, and Mrs. Marilyn Heinz.

Mrs. Barber said the unit is in need of volunteers to provide transportation to Columbus for cancer patients on regular treatment schedules. Volunteers can contact her at 335-3540.

Sunday, April 27, 1975 has been set as crusade Sunday. Chairman Tom Mark said that although special events benefitting the cancer fund will be held throughout the year, crusade Sunday represents the house-to-house request for contributions and involves about 500 volunteer workers.

The next board meeting will be held Jan. 28.

Park contracts awarded by state

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Reserve Construction Co. of Garrettsville has been awarded a $316,000 contract to complete a camp area and boat ramp at Mosquito Lake State Park in Trumbull County, the Department of Natural Resources said Monday.

Another contract, for $10,885, was awarded to William H. Pringle Co. of Youngstown to do electrical work at the park.

The apple is the most important fruit grown in Canada.

Lewis named president of board of realtors

Robert E. Lewis, CCC Highway-E, was elected president of the Fayette County Board of Realtors during the annual reorganization meeting held Monday in the Terrace Lounge.

Lewis, who maintains his real estate office at 1017 Clinton Avenue, succeeds Mrs. Ann Polk as president of the board of realtors.

Other officers elected were C.W. (Bud) Mustine, president-elect; Bud Seaman, secretary; Joe White, treasurer, and Donald P. Woods, Mrs. Polk, Bart Mahoney and Harold Gorman as members of the board of directors.

Richard Whiteside, president of the Huntington Bank of Washington C. H., was the guest and discussed the role played by local banks in today's mortgage money market.

Whiteside said the availability of mortgage money depends on the amount of funds on deposit and in savings accounts. He said the banks are governed by usury laws as to the limit of interest they can charge on real estate loans. The limit is presently eight per cent.

He also pointed out that 18-year-olds are now eligible for loans under new laws and that the availability in the

Fayette County area is "getting much better."

Twenty-five realtors and associates plus affiliate members were present for the meeting. The next meeting will be held Dec. 23 in the Mahan Building on the Fairground.

Ask Brown to battle trust rules

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. William J. Brown has been asked to start legal proceedings to halt "de facto discrimination" against Catholics in the awarding of scholarships from a private trust.

Benson Wolman, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio, referred in a letter to Brown Sunday to scholarships being awarded from the estate of the late Mabel Jones Wagnalls.

Her will stipulated that the scholarship funds be made available to all students in the Village of Lithopolis, Fairfield County, as well as throughout Bloom Township, in which Lithopolis is situated, Wolman said.

Yet, he said, Catholics and other parochial school students have been precluded from receiving them. He acknowledged that "a few" students from Catholic families have received scholarships during the 25 years they have been awarded, but only if they attended a public school.

Wolman said the attorney general's office has been "cooperative" in preliminary discussions on the matter.

Calling the policy of trustees of the estate "de facto discrimination," Wolman said it amounts to "deprivation of freedom of religion protected by the First Amendment and a denial of the equal protection of the laws guaranteed by the Fourteenth Amendment."

on the property. The plaintiff states that all other parties known to have an interest in the property are believed to be deceased and the plaintiff asks that the court declare him the owner and award title.

SUIT DISMISSED

A civil suit for damages from an automobile accident filed in Common Pleas Court by Walter D. Larrimer, 7 Sunny Dr., against Edison L. Tate and Nichols Leasing Co., Wolfe Summit, W. Va., has been settled by the parties and dismissed by the court.

Money Matters

By David G. Looker

"Shop" And Save
When You "Save" . . .

More to it than just a trick headline — it's a meaningful piece of good advice.

There are innumerable savings "plans" available to a "saver" from some paying no interest at all, to the one that pays more interest than any other available.

Remember:

Saving a small amount regularly is usually better than saving larger amounts on a sporadic, unplanned basis.

$5 deposited EVERY month at 4½ per cent interest, compounded every quarter, adds up to over 13 per cent more in 5 years than the same amount deposited at 4½ per cent interest only once a year — $491.00 instead of $434.00!

Save FOR something, instead of because "one should"!

Best wishes to Jack Marti in his new venture as proprietor of the Lafayette Inn.

Congratulations to John Bath on being elected the new president of the Washington Court House Shrine Club.

Bear in Mind: It's in YOUR interest that we regularly publish these little thoughts on the management of money. And, it's to make that advice and guidance continually available that we, at our Bank, your Friendly First National Bank of Washington Court House, are really here in business.

Health costs soar

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) - Spiraling government and private expenditures for health care coverage, treatment and materials were at the $80 billion level in 1972,
Arthur D. Little Inc., reports, adding that the figure is likely to double by the end of the decade.

The research firm,

the strain being placed on health care resources is leading to more stringent

Opening lead - jack of clubs.

There are players on whom the sun consistently shines brightly. Their fannies invariably succeed and, when they need a suit to break favorably, it does.

But the rest of us poor mortals spend lots of time and effort trying to overcome the bad breaks we have learned from experience to expect.

For example, if you were one of the chosen few, you would have very little trouble making this slam. You'd win the club lead with the king, play the ace and another diamond, win the club return with the ace, lead a trump to the ten, and ruff a diamond.

You'd find the diamonds divided 3-3, as you had learned to expect, and the slam would come marching home. You would simply play two more rounds of trumps, winding up in dummy, and discard your club loser on one of dummy's diamonds.

But if you were just a plain ordinary mortal, you couldn't afford to play the hand this way. You'd know that a 3-3 diamond division was decidedly against the odds, and that the slam would be unmanageable if the suit proved to be divided 4-2.

Accordingly, at trick two, you would lead a diamond from your hand and follow low from dummy. This gives you a chance to make the slam if the suit breaks either 3-3 or 4-2.

You win the club return, play a diamond to the ace, ruff a diamond, play a trump to the ten, and ruff another diamond. By this time dummy's fifth diamond is a trick and all you have to do is draw trumps, finishing in dummy, and discard a club on the eight of diamonds.

Score one for us plain folks!

Vatican attacks abortion

VATICAN CITY (AP) — In its strongest declaration on abortion in recent times, the Vatican declared today that nothing could justify abortion, even risk to the mother's life or the possibility of an abnormal child.

"Never, under any pretext, may abortion be resorted to, either by a family or by a political authority, as a legitimate means of regulating births," said the Vatican Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith.

The congregation said the 5,000-word "Declaration on Procured Abortion" was approved by Pope Paul VI.

"In reality," the declaration said, "respect for human life is called for from the time that generation begins. From the time that an ovum is fertilized, a life is begun which is neither that of the father nor of the mother; it is rather the life of a new human being with his own growth."

The declaration acknowledged the gravity of the problem posed in specific cases, but said:

"It may be a serious question of health, sometimes of life or death, for the mother; it may be the burden represented by an additional child, especially if there are good reasons to fear that the child will be abnormal or retarded... We proclaim only that none of these reasons can ever objectively confer the right to dispose of another's life, even when that life is only beginning..."

"The movement for the emancipation of women in so far as it seeks essentially to free them from all unjust discrimination, is on perfectly sound ground... But one cannot change nature, nor can one exempt women, any more than men, from what nature demands of them."

25 highway deaths seen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-five Ohioans will die on state roads during the 102-hour Thanksgiving holiday period, state highway safety Director Pete O'Grady predicts.

"But this projection is not a goal," he said. "Our only goal is to prove the statisticians wrong and make this a death-free holiday."

The holiday reporting period runs from 6 p.m. Wednesday until Sunday midnight.

Last year 27 persons died in traffic accidents in a similar period.

The average death toll during the period the last 10 years is 37. The highest toll was in 1968 at 52, and lowest was last year.

"The lower prediction for this year is based on the reduction in traffic fatalities experienced since the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit has been in effect, and on an expected decrease in travel due to economic conditions," he said.

In Focus by Charlie Pensyl

Well, if the present trend continues this will certainly be a photographic Christmas. More and more people are finding that a photographic gift is the answer. Maybe a camera is the right idea for someone on your list; or an electronic flash, a tripod perhaps, maybe a gadget bag would fill the bill for some on your list.

Last week we mentioned monopods. The response was interesting. Several lensmen came in for monopods for themselves; not for gifts. The Kodak Darkroom Dataguide is a item high on the list of lots of the darkroom hobbyists we know. It might be the answer for someone on your list. Think about that one.

Photographic books are going well this year for gifts. There are several new ones, both for movies and for stills. Books are always well received by those who take their hobby seriously.

A few weeks ago we mentioned HENRY KISSINGER: SOVIET AGENT by Frank Capell. If you were one of the ones who tried to get this popular book and found that we were sold out, come back; we just got in a new shipment. This book is MUST reading. Frank Capell is the one who wrote THE STRANGE DEATH OF MARILYN MONROE and THE STRANGE CASE OF JACOB JAVITS, as well as THE UNTOUCHABLES, books One and Two.

Speaking of Your Health...

Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Teenage Personality Change

Our teenaged boy suddenly developed a change of personality. He was always quiet and reserved, obedient and polite.

Now, I am told, he is uncontrollable at school. Even at home he throws temper tantrums that frighten us. How do you explain such a complete change?

Mrs. H.K., Miss.

The problems of the adolescent boy or girl are extremely complex. In this transitional period, their chronological age and their emotions do not necessarily coincide.

It is difficult to believe that the change in your son was as sudden as you describe. The chances are greater that changes have been going on for a much longer period, but did not erupt so dramatically until recently.

When a child is so consistently "quiet and reserved, obedient and polite" as you say, one wonders if too much pressure has been put on him to toe the line, regardless of his inner feelings.

Too rigid an attitude may modify a child's behavior to the point where the child is functioning out of fear or out of a need to please the parents.

It is obvious that your boy now is in a state of rebellion and confusion. As he approaches young adulthood, his need to express his real feelings, to assert himself as the individual he feels he has a right to be, has apparently developed to the bursting point.

It would be doing the total family structure a great injustice if more severe authoritarian rules were imposed on him to make him conform to his former standards of behavior.

It is virtually impossible for parents alone to unfold the complexities of adolescence. I strongly suggest that you obtain the guidance and direction of someone trained in understanding the emotions.

Your doctor or the school can recommend a psychologist or psychiatrist who can give your son many of the excellent psychological tests that are now available.

Only in this way can some of the deep-seated reasons for his behavior be uncovered. Once they become clarified to him and to yourselves, the process of reestablishing proper emotional balance can be set in motion.

A garbage truck driven by David G. Armstrong, 27, of 726 Eastern Ave., struck the southwest corner of a garage belonging to Charles Graham, 813 Clinton Ave., as the truck was traveling south in an alley behind Graham's house at 10:30 a.m. Monday, police reported.

An unidentified driver failed to negotiate a right curve on Washington-Waterloo Road at 2:15 a.m. Tuesday, two-tenths of a mile north of Stuckey Road, and struck a fence owned by Robert P. Helfrich, 3711 Washington-Waterloo Road, and an Ohio Bell Telephone Co. pole.

Sheriff's deputies are seeking the hit-skip driver.

Officers check three larcenies

Three larcenies were reported by the police and sheriff's departments today.

A 12-volt battery was removed from a car belonging to Ralph Miller, 1307 Forrest St., while the car was parked in front of his residence Sunday night, Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported.

A car radio was stolen from a van belonging to the Meriweather Motor Co., 1120 Clinton Ave., sometime between Saturday and Monday. Sheriff's deputies are investigating.

Three center hubs and a chrome trim ring were stolen off mag wheels owned by Charles Stevens of 94 Jamison Rd., while his auto was parked in the 200 block of E. Court Street.

The missing parts were valued at $50, Washington C.H. police officers reported.

Thanksgiving service set

A public Thanksgiving service will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Christian Science Church, 504 E. Temple St. Included in the service will be a reading of the Thanksgiving Day proclamation of President Gerald Ford.

Mrs. Mildred Howell, first reader, and Robert E. Lewis, second reader, will conduct the worship service which will feature a lesson on Thanksgiving and other testimonies of gratitude.

Sandy Rhoads will be the solo vocalist. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Hire, organist.

Honorary degree awarded to Duff

Charles A. Duff, Old Springfield Road, has been awarded the designation of Knight of the York Cross of Honour.

This honorary degree, highest in the York Rite of Freemasonry, is conferred only upon those who have held the highest office in each of the four bodies of the rite.

Duff is one of about 400 of the more than 4.25 million Freemasons in North America, the Philippines and Australia to qualify this year.

He had served as master of the Bloomingburg Lodge of Masons in 1965; high priest of the Fayette Chapter, Royal Arch Masons in 1968; master of the Fayette Council, Royal and Select Masters in 1969; and commander of Garfield Commandery, Knight Templar, in 1972. He was

Prayer breakfast draws 84 teens

Maurice Pfeifer, head football coach at Washington Senior High School, spoke on the topic "You Must be Loving to be Thankful" to the 84 persons present at the Thanksgiving teen prayer breakfast Tuesday morning.

The Rev. Charles J. Richmond, minister of the South Side Church of Christ, which sponsors the breakfasts, used visuals as Thanksgiving reminders during the meditation period. Songs were led by Linda Hollingsworth, junior at WSHS, and Marilyn Creamer, sophomore at MTHS.

Pfeifer explained with the aid of figures from a computer how an average person spends his life if he lives 70 years, such as — three years in education, eight years in amusement, six years in eating, five years in transportation, four years in talking to someone, 14 years in working, three years in reading, 24 years in sleeping, and five months in worshiping if we go to church each Sunday and pray 10 minutes a day.

He urged the youth to give more time to God in their everyday living. The next Prayer Breakfast will be held at 6:45 a.m., Dec. 3.

COMMON PROCEDURE — Miss Linda Willett, a licensed practical nurse in the emergency room, demonstrates the technique used in one of the most common procedures — application of casts. Prepared gauze is soaked in water and then wrapped over the area of the break. Removal of casts is one of the non-emergency procedures often handled in the emergency room facilities.

Emergency room program includes full-time doctors

BY GEORGE MALEK

In the midst of a growing community, Fayette Memorial Hospital has experienced an increasing burden on its facilities over the past several years.

Built in 1946, the hospital has twice constructed additional wings. The first addition was built in 1951, and the facility expanded further in 1964. However, improved physical resources at the hospital are not the entire solution to an increase in the number of patients. Physicians are needed to administer treatment.

ACTION TAKEN by the board of trustees last Monday night should greatly improve both the ability of the hospital to serve the community and the standard of medical services in the Washington C. H. area.

The board has resolved to contract with a Bellefontaine firm which will provide physicians for the hospital emergency room on an around-the-clock basis. The availability of a full-time physician will begin Jan. 6.

At a cost of $120,000 per year, the Medical Emergency Facility Co., will see that an emergency room specialist is at the hospital 24 hours per day, Monday through Friday. Combining this with the hospital's three-year-old program of 24-hour professional service on the weekends means that a licensed physician will be in the emergency room continuously.

The obvious advantage of such a system is in the case of serious illness or injury. Those who have a serious condition will be met at the door of the hospital by a qualified doctor. However, the subtle advantages, which are easily overlooked, can be just as important to the community.

If a patient elsewhere in the hospital suddenly becomes critically ill, a doctor can be there in a matter of seconds. At present, if none of the staff doctors happen to be in the building, someone must be called at home and travel to the hospital — both of which take precious time from the patient.

For the past 25 years the hospital has required that its staff doctors take turns being "on call." The doctor on call must be available for emergency service. On the average, each doctor on the 12-member staff spends more than 12 hours each week on call, in addition to his private practice and his routine work at the hospital. In all, it leaves a doctor with little time for his family and friends.

Over the past several years, a number of outstanding physicians have been lost to the community because of the "on call" requirement. Instead of choosing Washington C. H. as a place to begin or relocate their practice, these men have selected areas where the local hospital had a full-time staff, leaving the doctor more leisure time. The new program offers Washington C. H. an opportunity to be more competitive when seeking physicians.

Also expected to benefit are the patients of the local doctors. It has not been uncommon for a doctor on call to be forced to leave a waiting room full of patients for several hours while tending to an emergency at the hospital. Having a full-time physician in the emergency room should ease this situation significantly.

Robert L. Kunz, hospital administrator, and the board of trustees are proud of the fact that the hospital has always operated without a tax on local residents. "We have been self-supporting and will continue to be so," Kunz said.

READY BUT NOT EAGER — Mrs. Sandy Black, head nurse of the emergency room, is shown above checking the cardiac equipment. Although she is trained to act immediately if a heart attack victim is brought to the hospital, Mrs. Black is not eager to do so. She is looking forward to the time when a doctor will be in the emergency room full time.

He explained that the cost of the new program will result in slightly higher costs of emergency room service. It has been estimated that treatment will cost $2 to $3 more on the average than it has in the past, but the board feels the improvement in services justifies the increase.

Ultimately, area residents will decide whether or not the program will be continued beyond the first year. This year the hospital will have treated nearly 15,000 patients in the emergency room. Kunz said this number of patients justifies the program and with the same number next year, the program should be able to break even moneywise.

He explained that if the increased cost of an emergency room visit deters a significant number of persons from using the facility, the program will have to be discontinued. "On the other hand," he noted, "if the number of patients in the emergency room significantly increases, the cost per patient might be reduced. The hospital's only objective is to avoid losing money on the project," Kunz emphasized.

The program will be closely monitored and reviewed during the first year. "If it appears successful, it will be continued," he said. Kunz added that if the program becomes a permanent part of the hospital program, some of the four or five doctors who will be serving the emergency room can reasonably be expected to take up residence in the Washington C. H. area.

THE EMERGENCY room is presently staffed by a registered nurse, three licensed practical nurses, and a nursing attendant. With assistance from the nursing supervisor, these five persons operate the four-bed emergency unit.

Twenty-three years ago the emergency room had less than 200 patients per month and a small staff was sufficient, but with the number of treatments now averaging more than 1,000 per month, additional help is needed. Having a physician in the emergency room will ease the tremendous workload presently being shouldered by the nursing staff.

The facility serves as a clinic for Dr. W. T. Kubiak, a bone specialist, from Columbus, every other Thursday. Its staff assists in minor surgeries for outpatients and assists many in-patient procedures.

The emergency room also substitutes for a vacationing family doctor. Perhaps not an emergency in the most strict sense, a patient who knows that his family doctor is not available often seeks medical attention at the hospital.

In addition to Fayette County area residents who make use of the emergency facilities, the hospital often serves parts of Madison, Greene, Highland, Pickaway, Clinton and Ross counties.

"Waiting in the emergency room will not be eliminated by the acquisition of full-time physicians," Kunz said. "Those who come for minor treatments may not receive immediate attention because of others who were there before them. But when a true emergency arises, the patient will be seen immediately. He will no longer have to wait until the doctor on call is contacted, nor wait for the physician to drive to the hospital," Kunz added.

It is in these emergency situations that the nurses are most eager for the new program. Mrs. Sandy Black, head nurse of the emergency room, said that although she is trained to take over in "life and death" situations, she is not

Longest recession since war looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon says the United States may be facing the longest recession since World War II and does not rule out that it also could be the worst.

"It might be longer than any of the recessions we've experienced since World War II, but it's way too early to tell whether it will be more severe," Simon said in an interview Monday.

The longest of the five postwar recessions extended for 13 months, from July 1953 to August 1954. The last recession extended 12 months, from November 1969 to November 1970.

Simon said the nation's unemployment rate — now 6 per cent of the labor force — will hit 7 per cent by late spring, and indicated he would not be surprised if it went higher.

The nation's worst unemployment in the postwar period was 7.9 per cent during the recession of late 1948 and 1949.

"Forecasting is a precarious business, but that isn't presently in our forecast," Simon said when asked if the jobless rate might go as high as 7.9 per cent in the current recession. Some private economic forecasts have been predicting an 8 per cent jobless rate.

He said the economy, which has been declining all year, will continue to decline through the first quarter of 1975, and then level off.

"We still forecast that by the summer of 1975 there will be an upturn," he said.

The over-all decline in the value of the nation's economic output, as measured by the gross national product, will exceed the decline of 1.5 per cent during the 1969-1970 recession, Simon said.

He said it would be "too early to tell" whether it will plunge below 3.9 per cent, which was the record postwar economic decline in the recession of 1953 and 1954.

But Simon argued that the current recession is not much worse than the administration had anticipated at the time it drew up its economic program in October, although he said the outlook is being complicated by the coal strike.

He said the coal strike will "show a sharper slowdown" in the economy.

In pointing out that the economic decline was anticipated, Simon was arguing that the Ford economic program is adequate to deal with recession as well as inflation and does not need to be changed.

U.N. honors set for late U Thant

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U Thant of Burma, former United Nations secretary-general who died of cancer at 65, will be the first person to lie in state at U.N. Headquarters. It is among unprecedented international honors planned for the third U.N. secretary-general.

His body will be on view Wednesday for U.N. delegates, employees and correspondents. The 138-nation General Assembly will hold a special meeting for eulogies to Thant after his successor, Kurt Waldheim, returns from a peace mission in the Middle East.

After Thant's death was announced Monday, the assembly stood for a moment of silence in his memory, devoted half an hour to tributes from Waldheim and regional group chairmen and put off to today a debate on whether to switch Cambodian's U.N. seat from Lon Nol's to Norodom Sihanouk's representatives.

Thant died at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York. He had suffered from cancer of the cheek for years. The cancer spread to the larynx and became complicated with pneumonia. For months he had been fed through a tube because he could not swallow.

The funeral has not been arranged. Thant followed Trygve Lie of Norway and Dag Hammarskjöld of Sweden as the U.N.'s chief administrative officer. He served 10 years, the longest tenure of all, through the organization's stormiest period ending in 1971.

U THANT

Since retirement, Thant had lived in Harrison, N.Y., writing his memoirs until he became ill.

Tributes began when word of his death reached U.N. offices here. A close British co-worker, Undersecretary-General Brian Urquhart, said: "He was a very — in the true sense of the word — good man, courageous and very serious."

Waldheim credited Thant with "total dedication to the United Nations" and said, "His wisdom and his calm but

Ohio could lose at least $1 million in loan case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A U.S. Supreme Court decision Monday will cost the State of Ohio at least $1 million and possibly much more, a spokesman for the attorney general said Monday night.

Jack Maddigan, the spokesman, said the state may recover as little as $25,000 of the remaining $1.4 million in loans made to the bankrupt Four Seasons Nursing Centers of America. The state already has recovered $2.6 million of the $4 million in loans.

Maddigan said it is safe to assume the state's final recovery will be less than $3 million, leaving a loss of more than $1 million.

He hedged his prediction, however, by saying that "It's really pure conjecture" how much the state ultimately will receive.

The Supreme Court on Monday declined to review a settlement in the case of the Four Seasons Nursing Centers of America. Ohio loaned the firm $4 million shortly before Four Seasons filed for bankruptcy.

Maddigan said Atty. Gen. William J. Brown was disappointed by the ruling. "We feel that if the court had heard the facts in the case, we would have prevailed," said Maddigan, who noted the case was decided only on a writ asking for review.

In its decision, the high court let stand a ruling by the 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Denver that Ohio was included in a settlement of the bankruptcy case.

Brown had challenged that ruling, contending it was harmful to the state's interest. Brown said the state's attorneys had been "lulled . . . into the belief" that the state was not included in the settlement.

Ohio loaned the money to Four Seasons, an Oklahoma City, Okla., firm, in March, 1970. Three months later, Four Seasons filed for bankruptcy.

Ohio officials sought unsuccessfully to recover the money through bankruptcy court and negotiations. Meanwhile, other Four Seasons creditors filed for a class action settlement of the debts owed by the company.

A notice was sent to Ohio asking if it wanted to be let out of the class settlement. The attorney general's office has said the notice got lost in the volumes of legal papers in the case.

When the class action settlement was reached, the attorney general's office said, it found for the first time that it supposedly was included in the class action. The state then asked that it be let out of the settlement so it could pursue its own case against Four Seasons.

The Denver court said Ohio was properly included. The Supreme Court let that ruling stand.

"We'll get something as part of the class, but not very much," Maddigan said.

Frank Zarb Ford's choice as next energy agency head

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Interior Committee appears ready to act quickly and favorably on President Ford's nomination of Frank G. Zarb to head the Federal Energy Administration.

"We've had good relations up here with Zarb," chairman Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said Monday. "There's no question about his professional ability."

Jackson added that "unless something unforeseen happens," Zarb would be confirmed by the Senate before the end of the year.

Andrew E. Gibson, Ford's first choice for the job, was forced to withdraw after disclosure of an $880,000 salary settlement from an oil shipping firm he once headed. Zarb also comes from a petroleum background. He formerly worked for Cities Service.

In announcing Zarb's nomination, the White House said Zarb had passed all his FBI checks and security clearances as well as conflict-of-interest probes.

Sen. Clifford P. Hansen of Wyoming, the committee's second ranking Republican, called the 39-year-old Zarb

"an excellent nomination," although he said he has never had any personal dealings with Zarb. The nominee currently is the associate director of the Office of Management and Budget.

Other committee members, including Sens. J. Bennett Johnston, Jr., D-La., and James Abourezk, D-S.D., declined comment, saying they didn't know enough about the nominee.

The staff member added that hearings probably would be held next week and would take only one day to complete.

Zarb, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., came to Washington in 1971 to join the Nixon administration as an assistant secretary of labor.

If confirmed, Zarb would succeed John C. Sawhill, who resigned under pressure in a dispute over energy policy. Sawhill had been the chief administration proponent of energy conservation and reportedly had angered the President with his statements favoring a tax increase on gasoline.

Sawhill has been continuing to serve as head of FEA until a successor can be confirmed.

Ludlow Falls lighting set

LUDELOW FALLS, Ohio (AP) — Miami County's 30-foot falls and three-quarter acre gorge at Ludlow Falls will be lighted this holiday season by more than 25,000 light bulbs.

Last year Ludlow Falls were dark during the holidays because the volunteer fire department, which sponsors the annual event, abided by former President Nixon's request that all holiday lighting be eliminated because of the energy shortage.

This year the falls will be lit from Dec. 14 through Jan. 5, according to David D. Vallieu, chairman of the holiday lighting display.

An average of 100,000 people visit the display annually, Vallieu said.

We're keeping an eye on the future for you.

The Service People

New law repealed at Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Canton City Council voted early this morning to repeal a city ordinance approved by voters Nov. 5.

The ordinance had been in effect only 24 minutes.

By a 12-2 vote, the council returned city firemen to a 56-hour work week.

City voters by a slim margin approved an initiative petition shortening the work week to 48 hours. But after it passed, police and city truck drivers said it amounted to a pay increase and demanded the same.

Mayor Stanley Cmich said if the ordinance and pay increases were put into effect, it would cost the city $1.8 million a year. He said the city couldn't afford it.

The council contended the voters didn't realize what they were doing when they approved the measure.

Why not joint hearings?

House and Senate members are jealous of their separate prerogatives. They do not take kindly to suggestions for speeding up the business of the two bodies through joint inquiry into questions they must deal with.

In general this seems to be a good thing. There is some public benefit in having the distinctive identities of Senate and House fully preserved. A case can nevertheless be made for collaboration at the investigative committee level in considering a vice presidential nomination. This is brought to mind, of course, by the spectacle of Nelson A. Rockefeller undergoing prolonged questioning both in the Senate and now in the House.

Under these circumstances there is bound to be much duplication, with the second hearings to some extent a replay of what went before. It would seem not unreasonable for the two bodies to stage one comprehensive set of hearings, with separate final votes on confirmation.

A WORD EDGEWISE By John P. Roche

Willing to knock heads

WASHINGTON — If any of the aspiring Democratic candidates for the 1976 presidential nomination thinks he has labor in his hip pocket, he had better think again. The top leadership of the AFL-CIO has no "favorite son." Indeed, at the recent meeting of the organization's Executive Council, none of the members expressed any enthusiasm for getting into immediate presidential action. This feeling is, of course, based on a close reading of the current political situation.

For example, it is clear that the "New Politics" faction does not have a preemptive capability: We will not wake up some morning in 1976 and find another George McGovern walking off with delegates simply because none of the supposed professionals were watching the store. The exit of Senator

Edward Kennedy, who could have preempted in 1976, leaves an open field, and probably an open convention. So — as Al Barkan of COPE and other labor activists see it — let the boys go to it and see who shapes up.

The union people are also watching with great care the upcoming Democratic mini-convention, scheduled for Kansas City in December. The gut issue here is the use of quotas in delegate selection for nominating conventions. Because of Barkan's vigorous objections, and the "unfortunate" fact that he was supported by a majority, the New Politics types walked out of the preparatory meeting screaming "racism." It's a nice, newsworthy smear, but actually race is not the issue. The issue is democracy.

To be precise, under the democratic ground rules one gets office — at every level — by getting more votes than his or her opponents. In ideal terms, one hopes that all elements in the community achieve representation, but that means that women, blacks, Chicanos, Irish, Finns and so on have to get the necessary votes. (Has anyone suggested that the Hawaiian election be overruled because Japanese-Americans swept the board?) This is the only game in town.

However, the New Politics faction only likes this game when they win. And at Miami Beach in 1972 they successfully kicked out a duly elected group of Illinois delegates and replaced them with a crew that elected themselves in somebody's living room. The ideological basis of this attack was that the elected delegates did not really represent the area: There were too few women and members of minority groups. At the same time, they successfully defended the California "winner-takes-all" procedure, which ran head-on into another guideline, because, of course, McGovern won California.

Labor, along with the Coalition for a Democratic Majority (which, I should note in fairness to the reader, is a group I helped found), has labored mightily to eliminate the utterly undemocratic concept of quotas. At the moment, energetic efforts are underway to reach a satisfactory compromise, but it is hard to deal with a group that says in effect, "If we don't get our way, we will take our ball and glove and go home."

Which brings us to what is probably the basic source of labor's sour view of the Democrats. The AFL-CIO does not like to be taken for granted. President George Meany is basically a genial man, but what is he to make of a Senator who turns up only once every six years — screaming for help? Politics is not a love affair, and the AFL-CIO is far too sophisticated to turn down such a request, from a man with a good voting record, simply out of pique. But it is demeaning to be treated like the furniture. And it is infuriating to be billed by leading Democrats as the "conservative" counterweight to the New Politics faction.

On Nov. 7, for instance, President Meany let go with a blast at Senate Majority leader Mike Mansfield for playing politics with the issue of wage and price controls. His point was that Mansfield and other Democrats are primarily interested in loading "this depression onto the other party." Was this a "conservative" or pro-Republican statement? Of course not: Meany is the spokesman for 15 million American workers who don't want a depression. Members of the House and Senate will not be among the unemployed — Meany's constituents will. It might be added that the upper middle-class aficionados of the New Politics are unlikely to wind up on welfare, though they may have to give up that trip to the West Indies.

In short, as President Meany said to me, "Our job is to help our people. We are not the labor section of the Democratic National Committee, and right now we're not promoting anybody for President. We want to stop a depression, and if that means we've got to knock some Democratic heads together, that's their problem. We're not going to stand around watching a catastrophe, hoping it will elect a Democrat in '76. Our people are being murdered by inflation in 1974 — they can't wait two years for some mystical sunrise."

Use 'goose' for peace, pilot urges

BEAVER, Pa. (AP) — At age 70, longtime aviator Al Bennett wants to fly the "Spruce Goose" on a mission for world peace.

The "Spruce Goose" is the nickname for a mammoth, white seaplane, built during World War II by celebrated aviator-billionaire Howard Hughes, who piloted the craft on its first and only flight.

Hughes has since faded from sight, but the "Spruce Goose" still sits in an air-conditioned hangar in Long Beach, Calif., and Bennett wants the federal government to let him fly it around the country.

The silver-haired Bennett, who owns a large airplane brokerage in this Pennsylvania town, says the plane will bring national attention to his campaign for world peace.

"The American people are ready to support something positive," says Bennett, who is trying to get permission for his peace flight from the General Services Administration.

"The GSA says it wants the plane used in a way that would do the most good for the most people, and I am the one who wants to fly it," Bennett says.

Assembly OKs major measure

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 110th General Assembly resurrected and passed during its one-day session on housing two bills with important effects on local governments.

Rep. Thomas P. Gilmartin, D-51 Youngstown, and others managed to get out of the Senate Rules Committee a measure requiring local governments on threat of being fined to file financial reports with the state on time.

The state auditor's office asked for the legislation in a bid to cut off what until now have been occasionally late and, therefore, illegal reports.

The present law requires local subdivisions—counties, municipalities and townships—to file within 60 days after the close of a fiscal year. This is changed to 90 days.

Currently there is no penalty for late filing. Gilmartin's bill provides for a penalty of $25 for each day a report is late, up to a maximum of $750.

The state auditor is given the authority to waive all or part of a fine after a delinquent report finally is received.

The bill retains a requirement that subdivisions and public institutions also covered by the bill must publish their financial report in at least one county newspaper. The deadline for such publishing is changed from March 31 to 90 days after the close of the fiscal year.

In another new bill, the legislature raised retirement benefits of sheriffs and their deputies, giving them the same benefits as members of the State Police and Firemen's Disability and Pension Fund and the Ohio Highway Patrol.

The Legislative Service Commission estimated the change could cost employers, in this case counties, a total of about $790,000 statewide.

Participation in the increased plan is optional for sheriffs and their deputies. Under the bill sheriffs and their deputies could retire if they wish at age 52, instead of the present 60, if they have total service of 25 years including no more than seven in the military.

Their pensions could be no more than 66 per cent of his final average salary. Pensions are based on the number of years of service. Average salary is figured by dividing the five years of highest salary by five.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Stand by with the butterfly net

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law (I'll call her Mary) hates red hair. I have red hair and so do my mother and my brother. My son, who is married to this red-haired hater, has brownish hair with a slight reddish cast, but Mary insists that he is blond. Mary says she has hated red hair all her life—especially on girls. She is expecting her first child any day now and she says she has had nightmares about having a baby girl with fiery red hair. (She tells me this right to my face, mind you, and when I'm sitting there with red hair.)

Abby, what does a red-headed mother-in-law say to a daughter-in-law who says, "If I have a red-headed baby girl, I'll drown her."

BURNED UP
DEAR BURNED: She can't be serious. But don't take any chances. Be right there with a pink butterfly net for Mary in case she gives birth to a red-headed baby girl.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 16-year-old girl who has been going with dudes since I was 12. They hang around my house and take me for a ride to park and make out, but when it comes to school dances and movie dates, they ask another girl.

I read in your column that boys like to be seen in public with girls they respect. Then I realized they didn't respect me. That shook me up, and now I am trying to improve my reputation. But how can I refuse to park and make out with a guy once I've said okay? Or am I hopeless?

HAS-BEEN AT 16
DEAR HAS: You are not hopeless. You've already conquered the first two steps in self-improvement. (1) Knowing you need it. (2) Being determined to improve. Now flatly refuse to park. If the boys asks, "How come all of a sudden?" tell him that you've changed your way of living.

It may take a while to build a better reputation, but it can be done. Be consistent. You're on the right track.

DEAR ABBY: To "Little Me in Hartford," who finds people in amazement to think a man as handsome, brilliant and witty as her husband would marry a dolt like her! No, you are not alone.

I, too, am married to a handsome, witty, charming professional man. I am rather plain.

When our engagement was announced (we worked together) the amazement on the part of many was apparent.

However, 18 years and three children later, we are still married, and in my wallet I carry his picture along with a poem I clipped from a magazine when I was a bride.

The poem reads: "Her face and figure aren't so hot; Her wit's a little dim. So what's she got I haven't got? HIM!"

Ohio Demo plans bared

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democrats in the Ohio Legislature will try during six days in January to shove through a bill that would take tax collection away from the incoming Republican administration and give it to the office of Democratic Treasurer Gertrude Donahey.

House Speaker A. G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, told the Democratic State Executive Committee Monday night the bill already has been proposed for introduction Jan. 6.

It is one of at least three bills that Democrats will try to ram through while they control both houses and the governor's office.

Although legislators take their seats in the 111th General Assembly Jan. 6, Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes will not be sworn in until Jan. 13.

Lancione, a member of the executive committee, said the switch in tax collection from the tax commissioner, an administration appointee, would mean 300 to 500 jobs for Democrats.

Two other major pieces of Democratic legislation aimed for the six days, the committee was told, would be bills redrawing Ohio's 23 congressional districts and another stripping Republican Secretary of State Ted W. Brown of his power to accept or reject county party recommendations for local boards of elections.

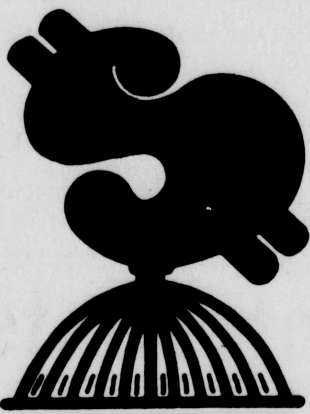

One of the 54 committee members in attendance — the committee has 93 members but 91 votes because of three cochairmen in Cuyahoga County — suggested particular attention be paid to the 17th District.

"We want Ashbrook cut up," she said, referring to the district now held by U.S. Rep. John Ashbrook, R-17 Johnstown.

State Chairman William A. Lavelle called the redistricting bill the "righting of a wrong" by Rhodes 10 years ago when a similar bill was rammed through a lame-duck legislature.

Republicans control Ohio's congressional delegation 15-8. Although Democrats picked up one seat Nov. 5 they lost another.

County chairman and one who Brown refused to reappoint to the local board, said he thought election reform was more important than redistricting.

Gov. John J. Gilligan, who spent an hour at the meeting, said the legislative leadership would have to decide what legislation could be passed in six days.

Lavelle said later that all the measures would be pushed. He urged John Blum, a deputy state auditor who suggested there may be more, to come up with a list.

Gilligan said that despite his own loss the state party was in "a position of power and influence." He again took personal blame for his loss.

Gilligan did say there would be a recount of the vote and Eugene "Pete" O'Grady said it was already being planned, with $30,000 budgeted above the costs of the state to provide it.

The money, he said, will be used to hire attorneys and professional computer experts to assist in the operation.

Mainly because of its loss in the governor's race, the party announced a belt-tightening operation. It will move into cheaper headquarters and cut its staff, which had hit a peak of 27, to nine. Office expenses will be cut from $450,370 in 1974 to $142,000 in 1975.

Solons hear pact details as skeptics wait in wings

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is preparing a confidential briefing for congressional leaders on the proposed nuclear weapons agreement reached with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev.

Details of the tentative agreement were not released publicly prior to Ford's meeting today with the leaders. "The President will give them numbers but it will be on a confidential basis," a White House spokesman said.

The New York Times reported today that the United States and the Soviet Union agreed to limit their offensive nuclear arsenals to fewer than 2,500 long-range missiles and bombers. The two countries also agreed to limit the number of missiles carrying multiple warheads, the report said.

In addition, the United States probably would not have to make any substantial cuts in the strength of its current nuclear forces under the proposed agreement, but the Soviet Union would, according to the Times report.

Returning from a week-long overseas trip that included a meeting in Vladivostok with Brezhnev, Ford and his aides expressed optimism over the arms agreement.

But congressional and Pentagon sources showed some skepticism as they awaited more specifics on the agreement, which Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger called a breakthrough in strategic arms limitation (SALT) negotiations.

Ford's briefing with Democratic and Republican members of the House and Senate also included key members from both parties on the congressional Foreign Affairs, Armed Services and Appropriations committees. But it did not include the prime administration critic on nuclear weapons policy, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash.

Jackson has been demanding that any SALT II agreement with the Soviets provide balance in both the numbers and force of missiles.

Among the worries expressed by some members of Congress and Pentagon staff aides was whether the ceilings in the new agreement will take into account the payload of missiles. The Russians have missiles much bigger than does the United States, with three times the payload.

And there have been questions of whether Ford was in too much of a hurry during the two-day summit meeting and "grabbed at the first agreement he could get."

Teammates set to visit Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford will welcome his high school football teammates to the White House on Thursday for a Thanksgiving Day brunch.

The men who played football with Ford in Grand Rapids, Mich., in the 1930s traditionally get together on Thanksgiving. This year was Ford's turn to host the group.

Snow flurries were to diminish at the end of the day as a narrow ridge of high pressure moved easterly through the state.

Skies were clear over most of the state this morning, except along the Lake Erie shore and in northeastern counties. A 10-mile wide snow band was reported from the lake shore east of Cleveland to southeast between Akron and Youngstown.

Snow fall of up to four inches was reported in the area covered by the band.

Wednesday's highs are to be from the mid 30s to the low 40s, with a chance of light snow possibly mixed with rain in the extreme southern counties.

Near seasonable temperatures Thursday through Saturday with a chance of showers Saturday. Highs in the low to mid 40s Thursday and in the mid to upper 40s Saturday. Lows generally in the low 30s.

eager to have it happen. "If treatment is required before the arrival of a doctor in order to save a patient's life, I have the necessary training to do so," she said, "but the physician has more experience, and I would rather he be there."

Kunz added that a number of crisis situations have arisen among the medical patients in the hospital during the three years of the weekend doctors program. "The doctors have attended to these patients while their private physicians were being summoned, and I have no doubt that several lives have been saved," he said.

Kunz concluded that, "this new program will allow the hospital to provide the community with the best possible medical service — on a full-time basis."

Large crowd attends Thanksgiving program

A huge crowd attended the Thanksgiving program presented Monday night by several vocal groups from Miami Trace High School. The program was held in Grace United Methodist Church.

Featured in the program were the Symphonic Choir, the Girls Glee Club and the Miami Trace Folksingers. The program opened with a candlelight procession.

Highlighting the performance were a solo by Denise Beoddy, who sang a portion of Gordon Young's "Three Short Psalms," and Vernon Stanforth who presented a short Thanksgiving message.

All three vocal groups received outstanding instrumental accompaniment from Else Hill, pianist, Mrs. Gene Hughes, organist, and Sheryl Pendleton, Rose Perry and Bob Spengler, who formed a trumpet trio.

Mrs. Rick Stinson directed the vocalists and Aaron Spalding directed the instrumental work.

Thanksgiving readings were presented by Cindy Baird, Toni McDonald, Denise Carpenter, Nancy Rapp, Marcia Markel, Kim Conley, Sherree Holloway, Gail Jenkins and Charles Haines.

The program concluded with a candlelight recessional.

Rev. and Mrs. Hughes now reside in Idaho

Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church at Logan Elm Village near Circleville, was the setting for the marriage of Miss Evangeline Ruth Miller and the Rev. Gary Dean Hughes. The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert P. Miller Sr., of Circleville, formerly of Sabina. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred T. Hughes of Portland, Oregon.

The Rev. Robert P. Miller Sr., former pastor of the Sabina United Methodist Church, father of the bride, assisted by her brother, Rev. Joseph E. Miller Sr., of Carlisle, Pa., officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Arrangements of white gladioli graced the altar and twin candelabra.

Mrs. Walter Stackhouse, organist, and Robert P. Miller Jr., vocalist, brother of the bride, presented wedding selections.

Miss Miller wore a floor-length gown of white satin with fitted bodice and empire waist. The chapel-length train was trimmed in Rosepoint lace with seed pearls, as was the bodice and skirt of the gown. The long full sleeves ended in fingertip cuffs. Her elbow-length veil was of three-tier illusion and gathered by a cluster bow of satin. Her only jewelry was a pair of gold earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Joseph S. Green of McClure, Va., matron of honor, wore a floor-length gown of light blue with bodice of patchwork in pastel shades. The long white sleeves and collar were trimmed in eyelet lace. The empire waist was drawn by a long sash in the back. She carried a white long-stemmed rose.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Joseph E. Miller of Carlisle, Pa. and Mrs. Robert P. Miller Jr. of Columbus, sisters-in-law of the bride, and junior bridesmaid, Miss Teresa Marie Miller, niece of the bride of Columbus, wore gowns identical to that of the matron of honor. Each carried a single long-stemmed white rose with white ribbon.

The Rev. Russell Libb of Berlin Center, served as best man. Seating the wedding guests were Randal Morse of Portland, Ore., Cyril Carr of Deefield, Ill., Tim Brittain of North Carolina, and Robert Owen Miller, of Columbus, nephew of the bride. Joseph E. Miller

MRS. GARY D. HUGHES

Jr., of Carlisle, Pa., nephew of the bride, carried his great-grandmother Moore's wedding band on a pillow.

Mrs. Miller, the bride's mother, wore a pink and beige knit floor-length dress with short sleeves, A-line style, and carried a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a light blue sleeveless formal length dress with a corsage of pink roses.

Hostesses for the reception held in the church Fellowship Room following the wedding were Mrs. Elden Neff of Ashville, Miss Darlene Neff, Miss Janice Glick, Miss Christine Lindsey, Columbus, and Mrs. Carol Hubbell of Sabina. The bride's table was decorated in blue and white, and the tiered wedding cake was also decorated in blue and white.

The couple is residing at 4105-5 West State St., Boise, Idaho 83703, where the Rev. Mr. Hughes is associate pastor of Boise Friends Church. He is a graduate of George Fox College, Newberg, Ore., where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree, and also from Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Ky., where he received a master of divinity degree. Mrs. Hughes, a graduate of McComb High School, also attended Asbury College at Wilmore, Ky., where she was executive secretary at the Seminary, and for two and one-half years was head admissions clerk at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

CF Board Directors installed

Persinger Hall, First Presbyterian Church, was the setting Monday evening for the annual dinner and special awards meeting of the Paint Valley Council of Camp Fire Girls. Leaders, assistants, committee chairmen and special guests were introduced and awards were given to those with several years of service in the organization, along with the appreciation certificates and special awards. Mrs. Charles Zinn was program chairman.

New officers for the year were installed by Mr. Edward Fisher, former president of the board. Installed were Paul Edgington, president; Charles Tye, first vice president; Mrs. Donald Wood, second vice president; Mrs. Gene Sagar, treasurer; Mrs. Herbert Satterfield, recording secretary; and Mrs. Gerald Burkett, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Burkett was presented a 10-year pin and Hiiteni award by Mrs. Fred James, awards chairman; Mrs. Gerald Wheat, Mrs. Nancy Hamilton, Mrs. Irma Gardner and Mrs. Aileen Wilson, received five-year pins; and four received three year certificates. The tacks were presented to Dave Hurley, Allen O. McClung and David Looker. Mr. Tye received the John Collier pin; and Frank Sanderson, outgoing president, received a plaque and the Sebago pin for service rendered; Mrs. Sanderson was presented a Sebago pin and charm; Mr. Paul Sullivan was also presented a Sebago pin; Mrs. Ralph Tate the Wakan pin; Mrs. Robert Riley the Charlotte Joy Farnsworth pin; Mrs. Robert Lee, Shawnequas, and Mrs. Lawrence Dumford, CF candy chairman, a certificate of appreciation. Mrs. James was also presented a surprise award for giving many volunteer hours of service to the CF program.

Several leaders and assistants were presented charms for having assisted with the CF Day Program. Pam Everhart led the salute to the flag and Joye Gardner the invocation.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Donald Murdock, representing the Community Chest, Mr. Walter Wingeier and Mrs. Robert W. Fries of The Record-Herald. All were entertained following the presentation of awards by a Karate demonstration, by members of the local Washington C.H. class.

Apple seeds harmful

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Can an apple a day hurt you?

If you eat too many of the seeds it can, according to Dr. Jack Beal, a professor of pharmacy at Ohio State University.

Limited quantities of the seeds are harmless, he says, but too many can be lethal.

Pits from peaches, plums, cherries and apricots are much more toxic in large quantities, he said. Eight or ten pits can be fatal if chewed.

"These pits contain cyanogenic glycosides which, when they undergo hydrolysis (the addition of water during decomposition), liberate hydrogen cyanide," said Dr. Beal.

What better way to remember those special occasions than by photographs from

Vandalism charge dismissed

A charge of vandalism lodged against a Washington C. H. man was dismissed by acting Judge Omar Schwartz Monday in Municipal Court for failure to show probable cause by the prosecution.

Phillip K. Moore, 323 N. Hinde St., had been charged with knowingly committing vandalism to the property of the Fayette County Board of Education. Robert Simpson was the attorney for the defendant. Moore had been chrged in connection with van-

Auto sales still down; outlook bad

DETROIT (AP) — Thirteen months into its longest slump since World War II, the sputtering auto industry posted a sharp 35 per cent sales decline in mid-November amid predictions of worse times to come.

"I don't see any sign of it getting better," said a concerned Henry Ford II as the industry was reporting its second worst performance for a Nov. 11-20 period in 14 years.

"We've got a period we've got to live through, but it can get worse. I don't think it's bottomed out yet," the chairman of Ford Motor Co. said Monday.

The dismal sales report was generally expected by the auto companies, who already had announced sweeping plant shutdowns and worker layoffs in the wake of lagging sales.

Nearly 200,000 hourly and white collar workers will be on layoff next month because of plant closings and cutbacks in other company operations. About 83,000 of the workers have received indefinite furloughs.

Total sales to date for the year are now off 23 per cent from a year ago to 6,841,226, with General Motors down 27 per cent, Ford 16 per cent, Chrysler Corp. 20 per cent and American Motors 11 per cent.

The four U.S. auto makers reported sales of 190,093 for the Nov. 11-20 period, a 34.7 per cent drop from 258,818 in the same 1973 period, based on the daily selling rate. There was one less selling day last year.

Remodeling completion at hall eyed

Further improvements to the interior of council hall on Rawlings Street were outlined when Knight of Columbus members of Colman Council No. 5386 met in regular session Sunday night.

James Donohoe, chairman of the remodeling committee, stated that work would get underway in December. Named to assist in supervising completion of the proposed project were James Wissinger and Chester Dean.

Committees were appointed for the Children's Home Christmas party set for Dec. 20 when council members will be working in cooperation with Y-Gradale Sorority. Grand Knight William Stahl urged full participation of the membership in the preparations to insure the success of this annual event.

Recommendation was made of Eugene Langen as financial secretary to succeed Ronald Pohlman, who is leaving the community to make his home in Lima.

Initiation of new members will be held Dec. 22.

Tentative plans were also proposed for another joint social gathering of Shriners and Knights of Columbus for next summer.

Now in progress is the annual euchre tournament which started in October and will end in February. There are 16 participants in the tourney. Committee in charge included Eugene Gad, Parker Hedgebeth and James Donohoe. Presentation of trophy will be made at the close of the contest.

Before adjournment Stahl asked that members join in receiving Holy Communion at St. Colman's Catholic Church at the 7:30 a.m. mass Dec. 8. A breakfast at Knights of Columbus hall will follow.

Dennis W. Stall, 21, Cincinnati, was fined $100 after he pleaded guilty to a charge of resisting arrest and Joseph W. Foster, 64, of 403 Eastern Ave., was fined $25 when he pleaded guilty to a disorderly conduct by intoxication charge.

Buddie J. Shepherd, 40, Dayton, was also fined $25 after pleading guilty to a charge of being voluntarily intoxicated. He was credited with time already served in jail on the fine.

In one case heard Friday by Judge Schwartz, a charge of driving while intoxicated was reduced to reckless operation through plea bargaining of the prosecuting attorney, Gary Smith and John C. Bryan, the defense attorney for Bert Hall, 109 S. Fayette St.

A jury trial request was withdrawn and Hall changed his plea to guilty on the lesser charge. He was fined $50 and ordered to pay court costs on the reckless operation charge.

Kiwanis holds ladies party

The Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club met Monday night in the Lafayette Inn for their ladies Night dinner.

Members and their wives enjoyed dinner at the restaurant prior to a short business meeting. Following the meeting the group attended the Miami Trace Thanksgiving concert at Grace United Methodist Church.

Plans for the Kiwanis Club's family Christmas party have been finalized. The party will be held Dec. 16 in Persinger Hall at the First Presbyterian Church.

WCH man sentenced on forgery charge

A Washington C.H. man arrested by city police for forgery has pleaded guilty in Fayette County Common Pleas Court and been sentenced by Judge Evelyn W. Coffman.

Charles E. Tillis Jr., 19, of Washington C.H., has been sentenced to a term of one to five years in the Chillicothe Correctional Institute.

Tillis was slated for trial Dec. 11, but appeared with his attorney, Dennis Ulrich, in Common Pleas Court Friday and waived his right to a trial by jury. He then entered a plea of guilty.

After a statement of the facts from assistant county prosecutor John H. Roszmann, Judge Coffman found the plea to be proper and sentenced Tillis.

He had been indicted by a Fayette County grand jury Oct. 25.

RETIRING TREASURER — Elmer Reed receives a certificate and plaque for his 20 years of service to the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society from Mrs. Charline Cunningham, unit president.

Reed honored by county cancer unit for service

A special tribute to Elmer N. Reed, retiring treasurer of the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society, highlighted the recent semi-monthly meeting of the unit's board of directors.

Reed, 619 Fairway Drive, was honored for his 20 years of service to the local unit and also for his contributions to both the national and state levels of the American Cancer Society.

Reed, who recently retired as an industrial engineer at the Armco Steel Corp. Metal Products Division plant here, came to Washington C.H. in 1951, having previously worked with the cancer society unit in Butler, Pa. He and his wife, Helen, immediately became interested in the local cancer unit which had been somewhat dormant since its beginning in 1947.

"In fact," Reed said, "the state was just starting to become organized. Although state headquarters had been set up in Cleveland," he said, "nothing much was being done in the counties and in local communities."

Some of the early unit presidents he recalled include William Junk, Bart Mahoney, Mrs. Martha Reiff and himself. He said that in 1951 Mrs. Reiff, in order to reactivate the local unit, served as president and also crusade chairman. Reed was appointed to the state division board of trustees in 1956 and held that position since then and was state chairman for two years and was national representative for a period. He has served as treasurer of the local unit since 1959.

REED SAID, "In looking back over the 20 years, we are all doing a much better job fighting cancer and particularly because of the dedicated work being done at the local levels. Helen and I have found the work most satisfying," he added, "and although we plan to continue our work with the local unit, it will be as board members without the responsibilities of holding offices."

Mrs. Charlene Barber, unit executive director, told the board the unit is now serving 13 cancer patients. Services include providing hospital beds in the home, wheelchairs, dressings, transportation to Columbus for treatment and other aids.

Unit president Mrs. Charline Cunningham announced that Mrs. Nellie Hardman has accepted the post of branch coordinator; Mrs. Donna Jean Johnson is the new unit treasurer; Mrs. Mabel Rolfe is the new board secretary; Mrs. Wayne (Joyce) Hidy and Mrs. George (Betty) Lundberg are co-chairmen of the service committee; Mrs. Eleanor Henry and Mrs. Sally Antoine are co-chairmen of the public education committee; and that other board members at-large are Mrs. Jane Wintringham, George Lundberg, Mrs. Gene (Mildred) Donohoe and Mrs. Reed.

The committee handling the Christmas card sale reported the net profit will exceed $900. Workers include Mrs. Ann Cox, Mrs. Jeannie Rice, and Mrs. Marilyn Heinz.

Mrs. Barber said the unit is in need of volunteers to provide transportation to Columbus for cancer patients on regular treatment schedules. Volunteers can contact her at 335-3540.

Sunday, April 27, 1975 has been set as crusade Sunday. Chairman Tom Mark said that although special events benefitting the cancer fund will be held throughout the year, crusade Sunday represents the house-to-house request for contributions and involves about 500 volunteer workers.

The next board meeting will be held Jan. 28.

Park contracts awarded by state

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Reserve Construction Co. of Garrettsville has been awarded a $316,000 contract to complete a camp area and boat ramp at Mosquito Lake State Park in Trumbull County, the Department of Natural Resources said Monday.

Another contract, for $10,885, was awarded to William H. Pringle Co. of Youngstown to do electrical work at the park.

The apple is the most important fruit grown in Canada.

Lewis named president of board of realtors

Robert E. Lewis, CCC Highway-E, was elected president of the Fayette County Board of Realtors during the annual reorganization meeting held Monday in the Terrace Lounge.

Lewis, who maintains his real estate office at 1017 Clinton Avenue, succeeds Mrs. Ann Polk as president of the board of realtors.

Other officers elected were C.W. (Bud) Mustine, president-elect; Bud Seaman, secretary; Joe White, treasurer, and Donald P. Woods, Mrs. Polk, Bart Mahoney and Harold Gorman as members of the board of directors.

Richard Whiteside, president of the Huntington Bank of Washington C. H., was the guest and discussed the role played by local banks in today's mortgage money market.

Whiteside said the availability of mortgage money depends on the amount of funds on deposit and in savings accounts. He said the banks are governed by usury laws as to the limit of interest they can charge on real estate loans. The limit is presently eight per cent.

He also pointed out that 18-year-olds are now eligible for loans under new laws and that the availability in the

ROBERT LEWIS

Fayette County area is "getting much better."

Twenty-five realtors and associates plus affiliate members were present for the meeting. The next meeting will be held Dec. 23 in the Mahan Building on the Fairground.

Ask Brown to battle trust rules

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William J. Brown has been asked to start legal proceedings to halt "de facto discrimination" against Catholics in the awarding of scholarships from a private trust.

Benson Wolman, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio, referred in a letter to Brown Sunday to scholarships being awarded from the estate of the late Mabel Jones Wagnalls.

Her will stipulated that the scholarship funds be made available to all students in the Village of Lithopolis, Fairfield County, as well as throughout Bloom Township, in which Lithopolis is situated, Wolman said.

Yet, he said, Catholics and other parochial school students have been precluded from receiving them. He acknowledged that "a few" students from Catholic families have received scholarships during the 25 years they have been awarded, but only if they attended a public school.

Wolman said the attorney general's office has been "cooperative" in preliminary discussions on the matter.

Calling the policy of trustees of the estate "de facto discrimination," Wolman said it amounts to "deprivation of freedom of religion protected by the First Amendment and a denial of the equal protection of the laws guaranteed by the Fourteenth Amendment."

Money Matters

By David G. Looker

"Shop" And Save
When You "Save" . . .

More to it than just a trick headline — it's a meaningful piece of good advice.

There are innumerable savings "plans" available to a "saver" from some paying no interest at all, to the one that pays more interest than any other available.

Remember:
Saving a small amount regularly is usually better than saving larger amounts on a sporadic, unplanned basis.

Save FOR something, instead of because "one should"!

Best wishes to Jack Marti in his new venture as proprietor of the Lafayette Inn.

Congratulations to John Bath on being elected the new president of the Washington Court House Shrine Club.

Bear in Mind: It's in YOUR interest that we regularly publish these little thoughts on the management of money. And, it's to make that advice and guidance continually available that we, at our Bank, your Friendly First National Bank of Washington Court House, are really here in business.

Opening lead - jack of clubs.

There are players on whom the sun consistently shines brightly. Their finesses invariably succeed and, when they need a suit to break favorably, it does.

But the rest of us poor mortals spend lots of time and effort trying to overcome the bad breaks we have learned from experience to expect.

For example, if you were one of the chosen few, you would have very little trouble making this slam. You'd win the club lead with the king, play the ace and another diamond, win the club return with the ace, lead a trump to the ten, and ruff a diamond.

You'd find the diamonds divided 3-3, as you had learned to expect, and the slam would come marching home. You would simply play two more rounds of trumps, winding up in dummy, and discard your club loser on one of dummy's diamonds.

But if you were just a plain ordinary mortal, you couldn't afford to play the hand this way. You'd know that a 3-3 diamond division was decidedly against the odds, and that the slam would be unmanageable if the suit proved to be divided 4-2.

Accordingly, at trick two, you would lead a diamond from your hand and follow low from dummy. This gives you a chance to make the slam if the suit breaks either 3-3 or 4-2.

You win the club return, play a diamond to the ace, ruff a diamond, play a trump to the ten, and ruff another diamond. By this time dummy's fifth diamond is a trick and all you have to do is draw trumps, finishing in dummy, and discard a club on the eight of diamonds.

Score one for us plain folks!

Teenage Personality Change

Our teenaged boy suddenly developed a change of personality. He was always quiet and reserved, obedient and polite.

Now, I am told, he is uncontrollable at school. Even at home he throws temper tantrums that frighten us. How do you explain such a complete change?

Mrs. H.K., Miss.

Dear Mrs. K.: The problems of the adolescent boy or girl are extremely complex. In this transitional period, their chronological age and their emotions do not necessarily coincide.

It is difficult to believe that the change in your son was as sudden as you describe. The chances are greater that changes have been going on for a much longer period, but did not erupt so dramatically until recently.

When a child is so consistently "quiet and reserved, obedient and polite" as you say, one wonders if too much pressure has been put on him to toe the line, regardless of his inner feelings.

Too rigid an attitude may modify a child's behavior to the point where the child is functioning out of fear or out of a need to please the parents.

It is obvious that your boy now is in a state of rebellion and confusion. As he approaches young adulthood, his need to express his real feelings, to assert himself as the individual he feels he has a right to be, has apparently developed to the bursting point.

It would be doing the total family structure a great injustice if more severe authoritarian rules were imposed on him to make him conform to his former standards of behavior.

It is virtually impossible for parents alone to unfold the complexities of adolescence. I strongly suggest that you obtain the guidance and direction of someone trained in understanding the emotions.

Your doctor or the school can recommend a psychologist or psychiatrist who can give your son many of the excellent psychological tests that are now available.

Only in this way can some of the deep-seated reasons for his behavior be uncovered. Once they become clarified to him and to yourselves, the process of reestablishing proper emotional balance can be set in motion.

Vatican attacks abortion

VATICAN CITY (AP) — In its strongest declaration on abortion in recent times, the Vatican declared today that nothing could justify abortion, even risk to the mother's life or the possibility of an abnormal child.

"Never, under any pretext, may abortion be resorted to, either by a family or by a political authority, as a legitimate means of regulating births," said the Vatican Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith.

The congregation said the 5,000-word "Declaration on Procured Abortion" was approved by Pope Paul VI.

"In reality," the declaration said, "respect for human life is called for from the time that generation begins. From the time that an ovum is fertilized, a life is begun which is neither that of the father nor of the mother; it is rather the life of a new human being with his own growth."

The declaration acknowledged the gravity of the problem posed in specific cases, but said:

"It may be a serious question of health, sometimes of life or death, for the mother; it may be the burden represented by an additional child, especially if there are good reasons to fear that the child will be abnormal or retarded... We proclaim only that none of these reasons can ever objectively confer the right to dispose of another's life, even when that life is only beginning..."

"The movement for the emancipation of women in so far as it seeks essentially to free them from all unjust discrimination, is on perfectly sound ground... But one cannot change nature, nor can one exempt women, any more than men, from what nature demands of them."

25 highway deaths seen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-five Ohioans will die on state roads during the 102-hour Thanksgiving holiday period, state highway safety Director Pete O'Grady predicts.

"But this projection is not a goal," he said. "Our only goal is to prove the statisticians wrong and make this a death-free holiday."

The holiday reporting period runs from 6 p.m. Wednesday until Sunday midnight.

Last year 27 persons died in traffic accidents in a similar period.

The average death toll during the period the last 10 years is 37. The highest toll was in 1968 at 52, and lowest was last year.

"The lower prediction for this year is based on the reduction in traffic fatalities experienced since the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit has been in effect, and on an expected decrease in travel due to economic conditions," he said.

In Focus

by Charlie Pensyl

Well, if the present trend continues this will certainly be a photographic Christmas. More and more people are finding that a photographic gift is the answer. Maybe a camera is the right idea for someone on your list; or an electronic flash, a tripod perhaps, maybe a gadget bag would fill the bill for some on your list.

Last week we mentioned monopods. The response was interesting. Several lensmen came in for monopods for themselves; not for gifts. The Kodak Darkroom Dataguide is a item high on the list of lots of the darkroom hobbyists we know. It might be the answer for someone on your list. Think about that one.

Photographic books are going well this year for gifts. There are several new ones, both for movies and for stills. Books are always well received by those who take their hobby seriously.

A few weeks ago we mentioned HENRY KISSINGER: SOVIET AGENT by Frank Capell. If you were one of the ones who tried to get this popular book and found that we were sold out, come back; we just got in a new shipment. This book is MUST reading. Frank Capell is the one who wrote THE STRANGE DEATH OF MARILYN MONROE and THE STRANGE CASE OF JACOB JAVITS, as well as THE UNTOUCHABLES, books One and Two.

Driver cited, hit-skip accident investigated

A Washington C.H. area man was cited by city police for a traffic violation which resulted in an accident and the Fayette County Sheriff's Department are investigating a hit-skip on Washington-Waterloo Road early this morning.

A rear-end collision involving cars driven by Donald E. Markely, 43, Rt. 3, and Jay E. Smith, 30, of 429 Broadway St., occurred at 11:10 p.m. Monday, at the intersection of East and North streets.

Markley was cited by Washington C.H. police for failure to maintain an assured clear distance ahead.

A garbage truck driven by David G. Armstrong, 27, of 726 Eastern Ave., struck the southwest corner of a garage belonging to Charles Graham, 813 Clinton Ave., as the truck was traveling south in an alley behind Graham's house at 10:30 a.m. Monday, police reported.

An unidentified driver failed to negotiate a right curve on Washington-Waterloo Road at 2:15 a.m. Tuesday, two-tenths of a mile north of Stuckey Road, and struck a fence owned by Robert P. Helfrich, 3711 Washington-Waterloo Road, and an Ohio Bell Telephone Co. pole.

Sheriff's deputies are seeking the hit-skip driver.

Officers check three larcenies

Three larcenies were reported by the police and sheriff's departments today.

A 12-volt battery was removed from a car belonging to Ralph Miller, 1307 Forrest St., while the car was parked in front of his residence Sunday night, Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported.

A car radio was stolen from a van belonging to the Meriweather Motor Co., 1120 Clinton Ave., sometime between Saturday and Monday. Sheriff's deputies are investigating.

Three center hubs and a chrome trim ring were stolen off mag wheels owned by Charles Stevens of 94 Jamison Rd., while his auto was parked in the 200 block of E. Court Street.

The missing parts were valued at $50, Washington C.H. police officers reported.

Thanksgiving service set

A public Thanksgiving service will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Christian Science Church, 504 E. Temple St. Included in the service will be a reading of the Thanksgiving Day proclamation of President Gerald Ford.

Mrs. Mildred Howell, first reader, and Robert E. Lewis, second reader, will conduct the worship service which will feature a lesson on Thanksgiving and other testimonies of gratitude.

Sandy Rhoads will be the solo vocalist. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Hire, organist.

Honorary degree awarded to Duff

Charles A. Duff, Old Springfield Road, has been awarded the designation of Knight of the York Cross of Honour.

This honorary degree, highest in the York Rite of Freemasonry, is conferred only upon those who have held the highest office in each of the four bodies of the rite.

Duff is one of about 400 of the more than 4.25 million Freemasons in North America, the Philippines and Australia to qualify this year.

He had served as master of the Bloomingburg Lodge of Masons in 1965; high priest of the Fayette Chapter, Royal Arch Masons in 1968; master of the Fayette Council, Royal and Select Masters in 1969; and commander of Garfield Commandery, Knight Templar, in 1972. He was

Prayer breakfast draws 84 teens

Maurice Pfeifer, head football coach at Washington Senior High School, spoke on the topic "You Must be Loving to be Thankful" to the 84 persons present at the Thanksgiving teen prayer breakfast Tuesday morning.

The Rev. Charles J. Richmond, minister of the South Side Church of Christ, which sponsors the breakfasts, used visuals as Thanksgiving reminders during the meditation period. Songs were led by Linda Hollingsworth, junior at WSHS, and Marilyn Creamer, sophomore at MTHS.

Pfeifer explained with the aid of figures from a computer how an average person spends his life if he lives 70 years, such as — three years in education, eight years in amusement, six years in eating, five years in transportation, four years in talking to someone, 14 years in working, three years in reading, 24 years in sleeping, and five months in worshipping if we go to church each Sunday and pray 10 minutes a day.

He urged the youth to give more time to God in their everyday living. The next Prayer Breakfast will be held at 6:45 a.m., Dec. 3.

Candidates file expense reports

Two candidates who were unopposed in the November general election have submitted campaign expense reports showing no income and no expenditures.

County auditor Mary Morris and Fayette County Common Pleas Judge Evelyn W. Coffman were the first two candidates to file their reports with the Fayette County Board of Elections. Neither had any campaign expenses to report.
